Haunted house benefits Food Bank

food item will receive a dollar off the ticket price.

"We were looking for ways to help the community, and this is how we decided to do it," Talbot said.

"With the holidays coming up, the Food Bank is a worthwhile cause," Dudek added.

Dudek said those waiting in line to enter the haunted house can look forward to entertainment.

"We'll have at least one TV monitor set up to show cartoons and clips from scary movies," she said. "We'll also have people dressed up (in costumes) who will stay outside and talk to people."

Talbot said OCA grossed about $2,800 last year from the haunted house and hopes to raise even more this year.

"The money pays for the materials used to build the haunted house and also funds (OCA) programs for the year," he said.

The materials for the house have been donated or bought at a discount from local proprietors, he said.

KKYS radio station will be broadcasting live at the haunted house and handling all the ticket sales. Other sponsors for the event include Tops Printing, Commerce Bank and A&M Properties.

Tickets for the haunted house are $4 for adults and $3 for children. It will be held Oct. 31, 7 p.m. until midnight.

Dudek added that from 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. will be a children's hour. All tours with children will be "toned down" to a less scary atmosphere, but tours without children will remain filled with "thrills and chills."

Health Center offers prescription tips dose with others.

•Smoking can also interfere with medications. It can decrease the effect of some drugs, such as theophylline (asthma drug). When combined with smoking, birth control pills have been found to increase the risk of heart disease and circulatory diseases.

•Certain medications may affect laboratory tests and give false results.

Other things to keep in mind about prescription medications:

•Ask your doctor if your medication does not seem to be working.

•Contact your doctor if you have an unexpected symptom or reaction.

•Do not decide yourself to stop taking your medication just because you are feeling better.

•Do not let others use your medication. Even if you have the same symptoms, they may be suffering from a different problem.

Your doctor or dentist can write or telephone in prescriptions at the Student Health Center (SHC) Pharmacy Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Phoned-in prescriptions are filled only at your request. The pharmacist will refer to the original prescription for you. If you wish to have a prescription transferred from another pharmacy, the pharmacist may call and get a "copy" of the refillable prescription. There is no fee for this service, although a small long distance charge may be added. Likewise, the SHC Pharmacy may turn over remaining refills to another pharmacy. It is important to save the information on the prescription label as it may be necessary to obtain refills. Each filled prescription is given a number which is useful for filling prescription number is helpful, and sometimes essential in processing refills. If possible, bringing the prescription container from previous pharmacy to the SHC pharmacy will facilitate refilling.

By law, some prescriptions may not be refilled. Others may only be filled within six months time or a limited number of times. Most authorized refillable prescriptions are good for only one year.

Remember, prescription medications are potent substances and can be beneficial but also harmful. Learn to maximize the benefits and minimize the harmful effects of your medication. Be an informed consumer!

October is "Talk About Prescriptions" month. October 20 is National Pharmacy Week.

Police seek suspect in armed robbery 20s, approximately 5-foot, 10-inches tall, 175 pounds, with close cut hair and gaps in his teeth.

The suspect was last seen wearing no shirt, cut-off blue jeans and black athletic shoes. Witnesses report seeing a dark colored small pick-up truck leave the area after the suspect jumped over the fence.

College Station Police report that a similar robbery attempt in the 400 block of Southwest Parkway was reported just minutes prior to this robbery.

This week the College Station Police Department and Crime Stoppers needs your help to identify the person responsible for these robberies. If you have information that could be helpful, call Crime Stoppers at 775-7111. When you call, Crime Stoppers will assign you a special case number that will protect your identity.

If your call leads to an arrest and grand jury indictment, Crime Stoppers will pay you up to $1,000 in cash. Crime Stoppers also pays cash for information on any crime or the location of any wanted fugitive.
