Welcome Back, Ags!

TAMU Outdoors

TAMU Outdoors, the Recreational Sports Outdoor program, is composed of four areas: the outdoor equipment rental operation, resource information, basic skill development in a variety of outdoor activities, and trips. All of these areas form a program that is designed to provide opportunities for Texas A&M students, faculty/staff members, and Bryan/College Station residents to experience outdoor activities in a safe, fun and ecologically sound manner.

Rec Photos

During the semester, you may see a Rec Photographer taking pictures of you or your team in action. You can order any photograph on file at the Rec Sports Office in 159 Read Building. Some photographs will be available to view on bulletin boards on the first floor in the Read Building. The cost for a 5 x 7 is $4.00 and an 8 x 10 is $5.00.

Sports Officials Wanted!

The Department of Recreational Sports at Texas A&M University sets a high standard for the Intramural Official. Each official is a vital part of the overall program. Therefore, officials are instructed in the proper rules and techniques of officiating.

As in all types of officiating, maintaining a good attitude is essential for intramural officials. In addition to this, the ability to work with and for the official's peers is needed. The intramural officials training program will help the individual learn how to adjust to and cope with this peer pressure. So get "fired up" and become part of the Texas A&M Intramural Program as a sports official.

What the officiating program offers a student at Texas A&M University:

- Training in any team sport offered in the Intramural Program.
- The opportunity to serve the entire university population.
- Monetary rewards: Pay.
- Flexible working hours.
- Social development.
- Opportunity to join the Texas A&M Sports Officials Association.
- Awards
- The opportunity for advancement through hard work.
- Association, through the Intramural Program, with the National Intramural Recreational Sports Association and the Amateur Softball Association.
