FIELDS OF DREAMS

For many communities in the developing world, fields of dreams are crops providing food security for their families and neighbors. Peace Corps Volunteers have been working for 30 years with farm families to use their own resources and lands, increase yields, decrease post-harvest losses, and introduce improved soil and water conservation techniques that enable them to insure food stability for future generations.

Farm families in over 70 countries are waiting for you. You'll gain immeasurable career experience, personal satisfaction, and adventure. You'll see results right away. And have an impact that will last a lifetime. There's no better in-the-field experience.

MARCELLA PUTMAN,
Research Assistant,
M.D. Anderson Cancer Center

M.D. Anderson: Uncommon people, one common cause.

Marcella Putman became intrigued with laboratory research while earning her B.S. in Biology. When she was initially hired to work as a laboratory research assistant with The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, she said, "I'm excited about getting in on the ground floor of a project that may explain how and why colon and rectal cancers start and spread." Now that Marcella has been with M.D. Anderson for a while, she speaks from firsthand experience when she says, "I can't imagine a more fascinating place to work than M.D. Anderson."

M.D. Anderson offers an exceptional opportunity to experience the power and bonding that can only be generated through the close collaboration of professionals dedicated to a common cause.

If you have a B.S. or M.S. in a science, M.D. Anderson invites you to consider Research opportunities in the following disciplines:

- Pathology
- Neuro-Oncology
- Molecular Pathology
- Infectious Disease
- Molecular Genetics
- Hematology
- Nuclear Medicine
- Cell/Tumor Biology
- Pharmacology
- Immunology
- Radiobiology
- Biochemistry/Molecular Biology
- Biomathematics
- Physics

Advantages of a career with M.D. Anderson include the opportunity to work with a diverse set of models and a wide variety of clinical material; active continuing education programs; competitive salaries and generous benefits; and many additional options.

Make the absolute most of your career. Choose to make a difference.

For more information, please contact: Jill Kemble at (713) 792-8016 or (800) 25-UTMDA. Resumes may be mailed to: M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, 1515 Holcombe Boulevard, HMB 205, Houston, Texas 77030. An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Smoke-free environment.
