United Way acting president asks local chapters for understanding

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — United Way of America's acting president warned Sunday the national organization may be dismantled unless affiliates forward the dues they withheld to protest his predecessor's lavish spending.

Interim President Kenneth Dam asked representatives of the local chapters to show understanding, saying a series of cost-cutting measures are already in place.

Many of the nation's 1,400 United Way affiliates have withheld dues from the national organization to protest the $463,000 annual salary and generous perks given former president William Aramony.

Aramony resigned under pressure over reports that he rode in chauffeured limousines and on the superperson Concorde at United Way expense, and rewarded friends and associates with high-paying jobs.

"It is extremely serious. We're living from payroll to payroll," Dam told a national conference of United Way representatives. "I may have to preside over the dismantling of United Way of America."

He said the national office is not asking for full dues payment right away, "but we'd like to consider at least partial payment of dues."

The local chapters raise money and give grants to charities in their territories. They customarily send 1 percent of funds they raise to the national office in Alexandria, Va., which provides administrative support and has a budget of $29 million.

Dam said the agency

French voters shun ruling Socialist

PARIS (AP) — President Francois Mitterrand's Socialists captured less than 20 percent of the vote in regional elections Sunday as disillusioned voters shifted away from mainstream parties toward extreme right and ecology movements, according to partial results.

Leaders of a conservative alliance gloated that it was the worst showing of a governing party since the current constitution was adopted in 1958. The alliance was the biggest single winner Sunday, making them the apparent favorites in next year's parliamentary elections.

Interior Ministry figures showed that with a fourth of the votes counted in regional assembly races across France, the Socialists had won 18.1 percent of the vote, below the 20 percent hoped for by party leaders.

The results confirmed the Socialists' steep decline since the last regional vote, in 1986, when they won 29 percent of the vote.

"It's a real fall," acknowledged government spokesman Jack Lang. He blamed the results on a "sort of erosion" he said all parties face when they have ruled for an extensive period. The Socialists took over in 1981, and Mitterrand won a second five-year term in 1988.

Control caffeine intake, doctors say

also been researched very thoroughly. Physicians counsel pregnant women to use caffeinated products only in moderation so their heart rate and blood pressure will be normal.

This fact should be considered very carefully by anyone who is watching their heart rate and/or blood pressure.

Caffeine is found in many products such as soft drinks, over-the-counter and prescription medications, and many food products. Cola drinks are the most prominent products that most of us know have a large amount of caffeine.

It is generally recommended that individuals limit their consumption to 200 mg/day, or less if you are caffeine sensitive.

Caffeine can also mask feelings of tiredness and fatigue. It will not make up for declining performance due to lack of rest and exhaustion.

If you try to pull an all-nighter during final exam time with the help of caffeine, your memory may not be as good for your exam as it would be if you were rested.

If you are reaching the 200 mg/day mark, you may want to cut back if you have observed any of the symptoms mentioned earlier.

For those who find they may be sensitive to the effects of caffeine, you need to do these things:

• Don't drink or eat anything with caffeine in it before going to bed.

• Try to use alternative caffeine-containing products as caffeine-free soft drinks and/or decaffeinated coffee.

• Do not use a caffeine product with a prescription medicine because the drug action may either decrease or increase the effectiveness of the medication (ask your physician).

Overall, physicians urge caution their patients about caffeine and recommend moderation.

Consider these facts in making an intelligent choice.
