

JUNIOR YELL LEADER

Chris
kaney medical science

ole of a Yell not simply to student body g yells, but to representative &M and of the ent body. It is son that we, as t Texas A&M ect those can-at will best

lers of the past
rps of Cadets
ps is the keeper most beloved e that students Corps hold to

ders who will responsibility as th Man to elect at I am one of

Jayson Aydelotte
Biomedical
Science

My name is Jayson Aydelotte, and I'm a biomedical science major from Katy, Texas running for Junior Yell Leader, #4 on the ballot. I'm ready to represent the Twelfth Man and do everything expected of me in 1992-93.

There's been a lot of talk about division this year and Aggieland has faced some troubled times. It's time we put all that behind us and raise as much Yell as we can next year, Army! Gig 'Em.

Martin Carcasson
Speech
Comm.

Aggie Pride, Determination, MOTIVATION: that's what it takes, and that's what I have.

On Traditions Council, I fight for Aggie traditions. As a Yell Leader, I will continue that fight, and try to teach anybody that will listen what "the spirit that can ne'er be told" is all about. My PRIDE in Texas A&M runs deep and strong. I have the DETERMINATION to do what it takes to lead all Aggies to stand united as the 12th Man. To dominate, our teams need us to be motivated. MOTIVATION is what I do best - Pure Energy. I guarantee, you put me in front of a crowd of Aggies, we will be heard.

Don't let Yell Leaders get chosen just by popularity, let the best man win. So vote for a true Aggie who has what it takes to be a Fightin' Texas Aggie Yell Leader.

Seth Chambliss Agricultural Economics

Howdy Ags!

My name is Seth Chambliss, and I hope to serve you as one of the next Junior Yell Leaders. Since the fall of 1990, becoming a Yell Leader has been one of my highest goals. From the beginning, I knew I could exemplify everything that Texas A&M is about - tradition and being as close as family. As a Yell Leader, I will continue to promote our many traditions, Twelfth Man, Corps of Cadets, Bonfire, Muster, etc., to help maintain the same closeness of Ol' Army Days. Texas A&M has a good thing, and we need to hang on to that.

So no matter who are elected as Junior Yell Leaders, I know each one of us can do equally as good a job, if not better, than any past Yell Leader. Thus, I will do my best to serve you and Texas A&M.

Gig 'Em.

Tim
sgitt litical
ence

ies!
sgitt, a mar-le, Texas en-for re-election ll Leader this osition of Yell quires much and motiwas a great o serve the
as Aggie 12th
Yell Leader.
the traditions
d together we n back to the out to support come out on ballot for next ber, you have 2th Man with

on. Elect me on the ballot

Chad Cross
Agricultural Economics

Howdy Ags,

My name is Chad Cross and I'm a sophomore agricultural economics major from Irving running for Junior Yell Leader. My father is Class of '57 and older brother is Class of '84. Having grown up surrounded by the many traditions of Texas A&M University, I feel confident that I possess the responsibility to serve the 12th Man as a Junior Yell Leader. Last spring, I walked on for the football team.

However, due to the time commitment for practice, and my first priority being the Corps of Cadets, I could not continue my dream of playing for the Aggies. As a Junior Yell Leader, I can still serve the 12th Man and the student body. A Yell Leader should be many things, but most of all a "SOLDIER, STATESMAN, KNIGHTLY GENTLEMAN." Vote Chad Cross, #3 on the ballot, on April 1 and 2, for Junior Yell Leader.

Jody Johnston
Chemistry

Howdy!

My name is Jody "Bones" Johnston, No. 9 on the ballot. I'm here to tell you I'm a man on a mission, the man with the plan to unite Aggieland.

As a Yell Leader, I want to bring back and enhance some of those things that have fallen short of Texas A&M quality. If something is not uplifting and first class, it isn't Texas A&M. Texas A&M is built on love: from Muster to Silver Taps, to the way we all feel about each other, just because we're Aggies.

The mission is all of ours. When we go home, we represent A&M. People there don't know what Aggie Spirit is, but they know everyone of us and that is Texas A&M.

Now the decision is yours.

It is up to each of you to search your hearts and find out how you want Texas A&M University represented to the world.

GIG 'EM!

Chris
Kelly
Psychology

Howdy Ags,

My name is Chris Kelly and I am a sophomore from Dallas.

Junior Yell Leader is a position of leadership, dedication and tradition. I believe I would be an effective leader who is dedicated to upholding the traditions of Texas

A&M. I am willing to work hard and accept the responsibilities and commitment.

As the last of six brothers and sisters to attend A&M, I know that being an Aggie is special and I would be honored to represent the best university in the country as a Junior Yell Leader. I hope to raise support for men's and women's athletics, Bonfire, and all other student activities that carry on Aggie traditions. My goal is to let everyone know how great Aggieland is by leading the Spirited Fighting Texas Aggie 12th Man.

So let's get fired up Ags!

God Bless and Gig 'Em Aggies.

Chris Kelly '94

ray oeder nmental
dies

e is Gray I'm an eal studies ustin, (Beat t.u.) and I'm ghtin' Texas
ell Leader.
at for Junior but didn't t down on otivated and o the Cotton my duty to the spirit of University in ng for your

AS AGGIE
or I promise manner that proud to be

Stoney Pryor
Mathematics

I am a non-reg math major from Dallas running for Junior Yell Leader. I believe Yell Leaders should be people who know what is right and are willing to stand up for it. The term is "Yell Leader," not "yell follow-the-crowder." So, they should yell and lead. "Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind" (Romans 12:2a). In other words, "whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable - if anything is excellent or praiseworthy - think about such things . . . [and] put it into practice" (Philippians 4:8,9a). I aim to do just that. If you have any questions or want to talk, call me at 847-1373. Please go vote, and when you do, remember STONEY for Junior Yell Leader.

Mark Rollins
Civil Engineering

Howdy!

My name is Mark Rollins and I'm an engineering major from Arlington. Being a third generation Aggie, I've grown up knowing the spirit and traditions of Aggieland. However, by being an active part of the 12th Man, I feel we all share a rich heritage here at A&M. Since my freshman year, I have been involved in Class Council, Student Government, Fish Camp, the MSC, and the Corps.

The experiences gained in these organizations have instilled in me the desire to give back something to this University which has given me so much. A Yell Leader must be dedicated, responsible, and willing to serve and represent the students of A&M at all times. Being elected would be a dream come true, and I pledge to do my best to live up to the standards we all hold for Yell Leaders. REMEMBER - "Roll WITH ROLLINS" on election day.

Gig 'Em.

Steve Scanlon
Political Science

Howdy Ags!

I'm Steve Scanlon. I'm a sophomore political science major running for Junior Yell Leader. I feel this is the best representation of what it means to be an Aggie: to be willing to give my time to uphold tradition, and to exemplify the Spirit of Aggieland. To be a Yell Leader is to represent every member of the student body in a manner consistent with the Aggie Code of Honor. An Aggie does not lie, cheat, or steal, but an Aggie does emulate the ideal set forth by our 12th Man, E. King Gill, and support the endeavors of all students 112%.

The Aggie Spirit shine from within, for all the world to see.

A gift from generations, shared with you and me.

So no matter where life leads you, whether near or far,

Tell them you're an Aggie, they will know who you are.

Vote Steve Scanlon Junior yell, #8.

Gig 'Em.