Dagwood quits longtime job

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) - A year after Blondie Bumstead rocked comic strip pages by announcing she was getting a job, her chow-hound husband, Dagwood, is bagging his desk job (of nearly 60 years) to work for her catering business.

Eat your heart out, Dithers! Dagwood, Blondie and their faithful readers will get to digest the idea slowly. It began to unfold this week in the nationally syndicated strip.

On Monday, J.C. Dithers, as always, was chewing Dagwood out. But this time, Dagwood got steamed and told his boss to stop bugging him. Dithers threatened to replace him with a computer.

"We'll see Dagwood increasingly embattled at work. Through the course of the week, he's so troubled he can't sleep," said Amanda Hass, a spokeswoman for King Features Syndicate, which distributes the strip.

In a week or two, Blondie will conclude that she needs to hire a jack-of-all-trades for her business - someone "who really knows food."

Hass wouldn't reveal more, saying she didn't want to "spoil the fun" for readers of the strip, which appears in 2,000 newspapers in 54 countries and 35 languages. Dagwood has experience - besides his love of food. He's made deliveries for Blondie on weekends. And one Sunday, six years ago, he saw one of his famous "Dagwood" sandwiches piled high with anything and everything, and signed up as Blondie's customer.

Still, it may not be a career move made in heaven. "I don't know if he should be trusted around that food," Hass fretted, raising questions about whether the new arrangement will succeed.

Blondie, whose maiden name in Boop-A-Doog started her comic career solo in 1930. Dagwood came one of her suitors, and they were married in 1933 to create the husband-and-wife theme.

Dagwood - like his wife a preserved "chrysomelid" - has worked for Dithers as an office manager since then. He's been fired and disgraced hundreds of times.

Though Dagwood often pestered Dithers for money, he only had one pay raise, on the strip's 50th anniversary. "Nobody knows what he does for a living, let alone what he makes," Hass said.

Last Labor Day, Blondie, a lifelong housewife, made headlines by announcing she was getting a divorce. While Dagwood choked on her newfound independence, Blondie secured a loan and opened the catering business with her best friend, Tootsie.

Blondie may consider the new story-line sweet justice. Dagwood's family - his dad was a railroad tycoon - disinherited him when he married her because they thought she was a gold-digger.

Farrow asks court to void adoption

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) - Mia Farrow plans to ask a court to void former lover Woody Allen's adoption of two of her children on grounds of "fraud and deceit," the Daily News reported Sunday.

Farrow, 47, will ask Manhattan's Surrogate Court to revoke the adoptions on the grounds

Allen was having an affair with another of Farrow's children at the time, unidentified sources told the News.

Allen, 56, admitted two weeks ago he is romantically involved with Soon-Yi Previn, 21, who was adopted by Farrow and her second husband, pianist-conductor Andre Previn. Allen and Farrow, lovers since 1980, are fighting for custody of Moses, 14, and Dylan, 7, and their biological son, Satomi, 4 1/2. Allen has been accused sexually abusing Dylan, a charge he denies. Connecticut police and New York child welfare authorities are investigating the allegations. One of Farrow's lawyers, Alan Dershowitz, has said Allen began his sexual liaison with Previn on Dec. 1.
