

Adams receives SWC defensive player award

FROM STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

Texas A&M defensive lineman Sam Adams was recognized for his play last Saturday against Southern Methodist by being named Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week by the Associated Press.

Adams

In A&M's 41-7 win over SMU, Adams, last year's SWC Defensive Newcomer of the Year, had two tackles, one sack, two quarterback pressures and an interception he returned 19 yards to the 1.

The true sophomore carried a defender the last nine yards but couldn't quite punch into the end zone.

"Our scheme was to try to get in the passing lanes and bat the ball down," said Adams, a 6-4, 282-pounder from Cypress. "That one just stuck in my hands. I thought I was going to score."

University of Texas fullback Phil Brown was named AP's Offensive Player of the Week. He gave credit to the Longhorn line.

"All the thanks goes to the offensive line," said Brown, a junior from Commerce. "They make everything go for us."

Come on Phil, what about the twisting, off-balance, grind 'em up 16-yard touchdown run you had? The one where you spun out of the hands of three tacklers?

"The line opened up the hole," said Brown, as if protecting secrets for the military. "Without them, we're nothing."

Coaches call him boring. Milk and cookies is an apt description. But when it comes to the football field, Brown's humble smile and monotone voice are replaced with high steps and dizzying cutbacks for a 200-pounder.

Brown has been an integral part of a resurgent Texas ground attack. Texas had 337 yards on the ground against Tech and 261 yards rushing two weeks ago in a 45-38 victory against Houston.

He rushed for 66 yards, including touchdown runs of 1 and 16 yards, and he caught seven passes for 95 yards as the 20th-ranked Longhorns defeated Texas Tech 44-33 Saturday in a key SWC matchup.

The Longhorns (5-2 overall, 3-0 in the SWC) likely knocked Tech out of the Cotton Bowl race while improving their own chances.

The Longhorns' offense, which is mixing the run and pass effectively under new head coach John Mackovic, has helped make up for a struggling defense.

"The defense is having a little bit of a problem, and we just have to give them time to rest," Brown said. "We have to help each other."

Walters

Continued from Page 2

tough a challenge as (Texas) Tech and Baylor were for us."

Walters was also quick to point out that the Cardinals' 4-5 record is misleading since they have lost close games to Ohio State, Syracuse and the University of Florida as injuries have mounted.

"They have got a solid team both offensively and defensively, and I don't think that they will be intimidated coming into Kyle Field," he said.

Walters saves most of his highest praise for the man that was his head coach for four years at the University of Louisville.

"He (Schnellenberger) is right up there with Bill Walsh and (Don) Shula because his track record is proven, and I think you should also put R. C. Slocum in there," he said.

Walters added that he thinks Schnellenberger is more than just a coach and that Louisville is a program worth watching.

"When he took over at Miami, they were getting ready to disband the program and he brought them from almost nothing, to a national championship," Walters said. "And that is his goal at Louisville. If there is anyone that can get it done, he can get it done."

Walters also lauded Schnellenberger's ability to prepare his players for big games.

"He's an outstanding motivator and an outstanding builder of programs," he said.

Junior running back Ralph Dawkins poses the biggest danger to the Aggies, Walters said.

The two-year letterman has led the Cardinals in rushing and receiving in each of his first two seasons.

"He's an excellent back," Walters said. "Tough and strong, not real fast, but extremely quick and he has got great moves."

A&M-Louisville will be televised

FROM WIRE REPORTS

This Saturday's game between Texas A&M and Louisville will be carried by ABC on a regional basis, the network said last weekend.

The fifth-ranked Aggies, now 8-0 on the season, will be playing on network television for the fifth time this season, and for the third time on ABC. A&M's Sept. 5 win over Louisiana State and the 19-13 win over Baylor on Oct. 24 were both carried regionally by ABC.

The Aggies have two more games scheduled for television this season, both of those being carried nationally. Games with the University of Houston on Nov. 12 and the University of Texas on Nov. 26 will be carried on ESPN.

Lady Aggies

Continued from Page 2

The next day, A&M put in a better showing against Louisiana State, but a strong Lady Tiger squad shut the Lady Aggies out in three straight games, dropping A&M's overall record to 13-10.

The contradiction in matches was one that was surprising to Givens, even though the end result in each instance met his expectations.

"We went into the Ole Miss match expecting to win," Givens said. "We were disappointed against LSU because we thought we could take a game from them."

A&M was on the verge of being shut out by Mississippi. The Lady Rebels, who entered the match with only nine wins, sprinted out to a two-game lead, winning by scores of 15-7 and 15-12 before A&M rebounded to take the next three.

Mitchell played no small part in that dramatic comeback. The junior from Marshall logged a career-high 20 kills, and capitalized on her kill attempts for a .302 hitting percentage.

Mitchell was humble about the best performance of her college career.

"I guess you just go out there and you have to focus on executing the skill part of the game," Mitchell said. "Suzy (Wente) and Genny (Wood) were really setting well for us."

"I didn't see myself doing anything different (against Ole Miss). I just did what I had to do."

ready circled this one (the Louisville game) as a win, and I told my players, "Don't fall for that," he said. "Don't listen to your parents, don't listen to your girlfriends, and don't listen to the former students or whoever you've been talking to. I challenge you to look at those game films and not have respect for them."

Schnellenberger's name has been spoken with the phrase "coaching genius" in front of it often in the last few years.

The same thing is often said about another Aggie foe this season, Bill Walsh and his Stanford Cardinal.

But everyone knows who came out on top on that August night in Anaheim.

And the real coaching genius on the sidelines on Saturday is probably the one that is telling his team that this is no time to rest on their 8-0 laurels.

RESEARCH

PANIC

Do you experience brief, unexpected periods of intense fear or discomfort?
Have you visited your doctor or the hospital emergency room because of chest pains, shortness of breath, numbness or tingling sensations and find out that you have no physical problems?

These occurrences may have been panic attacks.

VIP Research is conducting a study on Panic Disorder. Individuals with symptoms of panic attacks are being recruited to participate in a three month study of an investigational medication for the treatment of panic disorder. If you would like more information, call VIP Research. $200.00 will be paid to those individuals who qualify and complete the study.

CALL
VOLUNTEERS IN PHARMACEUTICAL RESEARCH, INC.
776-1417

COUPON

SAVE $32

On Routine Cleaning, X-Rays and Exam (Regularly $71, With Coupon $39)
Payment must be made at time of service

BRYAN COLLEGE STATION
Jim Arenas, DDS Dan Lawson, DDS
Karen Arenas, DDS Paul Haines, DDS
1103 Villa Maria Texas Ave. at SW Pkwy.
268-1407 696-9578

CarePlus
DENTAL CENTERS

EXP. 11-15-92

Sore Throat/Strep Throat

Individuals at least 13 years old needed to participate in a sore throat (strep throat, tonsillitis) research study involving an investigational oral antibiotic in capsule form. $100 incentive paid to those chosen to participate upon completion of the study.

ADULT SKIN INFECTION STUDY

Individuals age 13 and older wanted to participate in a research study for bacterial skin infections such as infected wounds, earlobes, infected burns, boils, infected hair follicles, impetigo, infected ingrown toenails and others. Investigational oral antibiotic in capsule form. $100 incentive for those chosen who complete the study.

CHILDREN'S SKIN INFECTION STUDY

Children, age six months to 12 years, wanted to participate in a research study for bacterial skin infections such as: infected wounds, bug bites, earlobes, burns, boils, hair follicles, ingrown toenails, impetigo and others. Investigational oral antibiotic in liquid form. $150 incentive for those chosen who complete the study.

SINUS INFECTION STUDY

Individuals age 13 and older with a sinus infection to participate in a clinical research study for 3 to 5 weeks with an investigational antibiotic in capsule form. Minimum incentive of $150 paid to those who complete the study.

BIOLOGICA
RESEARCH GROUP, INC.
776-0400

MOLECULAR SCIENCE FOR CITIZENS

Pb (C₂H₅)₄ AIDS RU-486

Stars and the Cosmos.

of WHAT are you made? Penicillin

Nylon GIANT MOLECULES that control your life.

Turn out the light and the party is really over!

If you melt dry ice can you swim in it without getting wet?

Everything has a mirror image except a vampire. Who cares?

C₂H₅OH The origin of atmospheric oxygen and ozone.

Diamonds Carbon is a girl's best friend. Taxol

Are there really chemicals in your food?

Carbonic Anhydrase Getting the lead out (of gasoline). CO₂

The genetics of aging. Cholesterol

H₂O Energy Policy

O₂

DNA

If you think science courses are inherently boring and have nothing to offer you, try the new MSC (Molecular Science for Citizens). This course (listed as Chemistry 106 under the old title in the schedule book) has been developed and will be taught by Drs. John Hogg and Donald Sawyer, professors of chemistry, and Dr. James Wild, professor of biochemistry and biophysics and of genetics. The course will provide a conceptual introduction to the molecular nature of all natural and man-made materials as well as biological organisms. It will be offered in the spring of 1993 (TR 12:45 - 2:00) and applies to the core curriculum requirement in science. It is endorsed by the Colleges of Architecture, Liberal Arts, and Business Administration. The laboratory (listed as Chemistry 116) has been developed by Dr. Larry Peck and will be unlike any science laboratory you've experienced.

Stop by Room 2109 Chemistry before registration to inspect a complete syllabus. Registration limited to 200 students.

Vitamin C PCB's ATZ

Davis

Continued from Page 2

Two seasons ago, Louisville went to the Fiesta Bowl and capped off a 10-1-1 season by drubbing Alabama, 34-7.

A&M head coach R. C. Slocum and the rest of his football team know where Louisville is, and they also say that they have a good football team, as well.

"Louisville is very, very capable of coming into Kyle Field and winning this football game," Slocum said.

In fact, Slocum didn't sound real eager to face the Cardinals on Saturday.

"I would take a one-point win, right now, and be thrilled to have it," Slocum said, laughing.

"We could save Howard (Schnellenberger) some money if they just give us the win and don't show up."

Junior free safety Patrick Bates is equally impressed with Louisville.

"They're a fundamentally sound team, and can play with anybody," Bates said.

And Slocum is right, of course. He's as right as a coach guiding an undefeated team through a long season can be.

Slocum has to guard against the letdowns that sometimes inevitably come with taking a week in the middle of a conference season to play a team that no one knows and can't effect the outcome of who wins the conference championship.

And Slocum is taking no chances in regards to the attitude his players take going into this game.

"Most of our fans have already circled this one (the Louisville game) as a win, and I told my players, "Don't fall for that," he said. "Don't listen to your parents, don't listen to your girlfriends, and don't listen to the former students or whoever you've been talking to. I challenge you to look at those game films and not have respect for them."

Schnellenberger's name has been spoken with the phrase "coaching genius" in front of it often in the last few years.

The same thing is often said about another Aggie foe this season, Bill Walsh and his Stanford Cardinal.

But everyone knows who came out on top on that August night in Anaheim.

And the real coaching genius on the sidelines on Saturday is probably the one that is telling his team that this is no time to rest on their 8-0 laurels.

AGGIE CINEMA

Call 847-8478 for more info

"The Best Movie of the Summer. A Major League Hit."

"An Uplifting, Winning 10!"

A League OF THEIR OWN

One Night ONLY!!!!

Saturday
Nov. 7th
7:30 p.m.
9:45 p.m.
& Midnight

Admission is $2.00.

All screenings will be presented in Rudder Theatre Complex.