Cubs sign Rangers' Guzman

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO- The Chicago Cubs on Tuesday signed freeagent pitcher Jose Guzman to a $14.35 million, four-year contract and waved good-bye to Cy Young winner Greg Maddux.

Guzman was 16-11 for the Texas Rangers last season and Cubs general manager Larry Himes said he will be getting his money's worth if the 29-year-old right-hander does as well next

Despite the price tag on Guzman, the Cubs are saving a bundle by giving up Maddux, who turned down a five-year, $29 million package after a 20-11 season and a sparkling 2.18 ERA.

"This ends our relationship of going after Greg Maddux, as far as I know," Himes said at a news conference. "Our offer is off the Guzman, who has spent his en-tire career with the Rangers, had two strong years after missing the 1989 season with a torn rotator cuff and spending 1990 in the minors on injury rehabilitation assignments. He made his majorleague debut with the Rangers in September 1985.

He went 13-7 with a 3.08 ERA in 1991 and had a 3.66 ERA to go with his 16-11 record last season.

Guzman's agent, Barry Meister, said the Cubs were among four teams going after the free agent, who made $1,465,000 last

The Rangers had refused to go beyond a three-year offer reportedly worth about $9 million.

Texas general manager Tom Grieve said he thought the Rangers' offer "was in the ballpark, but it obviously wasn't good enough. Maybe it was in the

In a conference call with re-porters, he said he chose Chicago "because it is one team I have always liked."

He called the Cubs "a team with a good future, and it can be a great team this year and years to Guzman said that as a ground ball pitcher he will benefit from Wrigley Field's grass playing field that's cut on the long side.

He said he can do better than his 16-11 record last season.

"I had seven games that were blown saves," he said. "The Cubs have a good defense, and that's something I didn't have with the Rangers. I think I can win between 15 and 20 games."

As the story continued, apparently these same band members tried to "remove" the horns from Bevo by scuffing off the paint with their boots.

Where do we find these idiots?

The turf they were attempting to damage was in MEMORIAL Stadium.

dium that surrounds it in Austin were built and named in honor of all those brave Texas alumni who

What the members of the A&M band attempted to do was nothing short of disgraceful, without honor and cowardly at best, and if they want to disagree with me, they can do so in per-

One Texas alum made a comment that no one could hear and still take pride in his or her school at that moment. The worst part was, his statement was true.

What he said cut like a knife, so much so that I wrote it down.

"You Aggies seem to think that your field is sacred, but nobody else's is," said Jerry Scarbrough, editor-publisher of True Orange, a newsletter dealing specifically with Longhorn ath-letics. "Well, that field is sacred to me, and at least half of this crowd.

If that wasn't enough, the band was further disgraced when

Once again, members of the Aggie Band proved to be without

A friend of mine told me that some members of Texas' band were no more excited to share their field than our band members were, but they acted with dignity and respect and played

It's a very sad day when t-sips show more class than we do, especially by such a wide margin.

The final indignity occurred again at midfield just after the game had ended. Some overexuberent football players "performed" some sort of victory dance in the middle of the field as time ran out, flaunting nothin better than horrible dance move Most Aggies don't enjoy seeing their head coach humbly along apologizing to another coach for streets the conduct of a few players on what should be the proudest within night of his professional career.

You could hear R.C. Slocum chewing out his team from outside the locker room when the game was finished. What a pity.

There is a time to dance on the supposed grave of the Longhon if you are an Aggie, but this year was not it. In fact, the only time can see it being worthwhile will fendan be in the year 2026.

That is, if we don't lose a single game to them in all the years in between; because if we do win the next 34 straight, in 2026 we will finally pull even with them in the all-time series.

That's right, they lead us 64 30-5, and yes, that does include us winning eight of the last nine Dance on that.
