come what Buckley was last year. I hope I can live up to the reputation A&M linebackers have."

While at A&M, Buckley's main responsibility was to rush the passer, which was evidenced by his 29 career sacks. Solari will play a more versatile role than just applying pressure on the quarterback.

Davie envisions Solari becoming a complete linebacker.

"We are going to ask Steve to do more things like covering people out of the backfield because that is the type of guy he is," Davie said. "He will do a lot of drops."

"He is a true linebacker type of guy and what he does will depend on what side he plays on."

Due to Solari's multiple roles, Davie said fans should not expect Solari to put up big sack totals.

"A player like Steve, he can't be judged on statistics," Davie said. "We will ask him to do a lot of different things, not just rushing the passer. Because of that, he will probably not post the numbers like Marcus did."

"We basically turned Buckley loose but with Steve he will have several other things going on."

Solari said he looks forward to the challenge of covering those "scatbacks" coming out of the offensive backfield.

"Don't get me wrong, nothing beats, or is like, rushing the quarterback," he said. "But the things that the coaches are looking at me to do like covering running backs will be an experience."

gracing Chickwood's face. It was even a moral victory, at that.

Gene Hackman gave a virtuoso performance that offered sympathy for the devils in the college basketball coaching ranks, displaying some silver linings for even Indiana coach Bob Knight's stormy explosions.

No matter what should happen in reality and no matter what your tastes, in the movies you'll get a perfect microcosm of sports packed with humanity and immediately evident deep meanings - a slice of the athletic drama with all the trimmings.

Shakespeare said all the world's a stage, so why not settle for the best actors for your sport entertainment?

Of course, there are different types of sports movies for all moods.

There are the bright, pastoral homages to the purity of sport that are gracefully rendered in movies such as "Hoosiers," "The Natural," "Rocky," and "Field of Dreams."

Of this group, I've got to go with "Hoosiers" as tops, nipping Sylvester Stallone's single solid acting performance as an underachieving, aging boxer presented with an out-of-the-blue title shot offered by the heavyweight champion of the world.

There are the great, cynical movies that take stabs and poke their dry wit at sport and the human animals that perform for us. "Bull Durham," "The Bad News Bears," and "North Dallas Forty" are plainly superior from this collection.

"Bull Durham" is the best by far - a story that hits right at the heart of every true baseball player and fan. -And they've got a sequel in the works that'll be EVEN better!

Yeahright. Give up while you're ahead, Costner.

And then, like the voice from the NFL films, there are the really, really important sports

"It will not be easy chasing someone faster, but good players rise to the occasion and thrive on it. I hope I can."

While preparing for his expanded part, Solari has kept a name tucked in the corner of his mind. The person who he hopes to emulate has experienced success in the NFL to the tune of two Super Bowl rings by doing the things Solari hopes to do next season.

"I want to be like Wilbur Marshall of the Washington Redskins," Solari said. "He does a great job of rushing when he has to and covering a running back when he is called upon to do that. His drops and rushing ability are excellent."

"To do that, I need to stay healthy. No more injuries, because they are nothing but frustration."

Here are the bad mother warned you "Wildcats," "The Band of Thunder," the Ducks," and let's not mention Dangerfield's com upper echelons of film "Ladybugs."

Outside the movie there are other person sports clips, such as highlight film video Course," George Carlin sports definition of which athletic contests sports, and a Loony Toon Foghorn Leghorn gear running with a football.

My fave is my man spiking the football/his arch-dog's head. It's over a set of uprights at point, and sticking a pin under the arch-dog, back and forth suspended rope under the upright painting his hind-quarters. I guess you had to see
