South Africans mourn slain leader 80,000 people pay tribute at funeral

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Millions of blacks across South Africa boycotted work Monday to honor slain leader Chris Hani, who was buried in an emotional ceremony as police clashed with enraged youths.

At least 26 people were killed Sunday night and Monday, nearly all in Johannesburg's black townships, including two people whose charred bodies were found in a house near the stadium where the funeral was held.

More than 80,000 grieving blacks honored Hani at a peaceful ceremony in the stadium. Thousands of mourners, unable to get into the packed stadium, stood outside.

Police fought running battles outside the stadium with hundreds of youths who fired guns, hurled rocks and set fire to several buildings. At least 10 people were wounded, officials said.

Business groups said at least half the country's six million black workers stayed away from work Monday, the second major one-day strike to mourn Hani in a week. Johannesburg and other city centers were largely deserted.

Nineteen people were killed Sunday night in drive-by attacks by black gunmen in the Sebokeng black township, and three people were killed Monday in Vosloorus as they went to the funeral, police said.

Also Monday, police said they found the body of a man who had been shot to death in the Katlehong township out of Johannesburg. It was not clear if the deaths were linked to the funeral.

Police fired shotguns and rubber bullets at protesters blocking a road near Cape Town on Monday, injuring five people.

Hani, head of the Communist Party and a top African National Congress official, was one of the country's most popular black leaders.

Despite scattered violence since Hani was killed by a white gunman April 10, reaction to the death of one of the country's major black leaders has been fairly restrained.

South Dakota governor dies in plane crash; 8 people killed

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DUBUQUE, Iowa — A plane carrying South Dakota Gov. George Mickelson and seven other people crashed in eastern Iowa after reporting engine failure Monday. There were no survivors, a sheriff said.

Jackson County Sheriff Bob Lyons said, "Everyone on board is dead."

Mickelson's body wasn't immediately identified. However, Dick Vohs, an aide to Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad, said the airplane's passenger list included Mickelson. Janelle Toman, press secretary for Mickelson, confirmed Mickelson was on the plane.

Rose Marie Ambrosy, who owns the farm where the plane crashed, said no one on the ground was hurt.

Other victims included two South Dakota state commissioners and Roger Hainje, director of the Sioux Falls Development Foundation. Mickelson, 51, a Republican, was serving his second term. He was elected governor in 1986 and won another four-year term in 1990. He also served six years in the South Dakota House, where he was speaker in 1979-80.

The plane was returning to South Dakota from Cincinnati when it crashed after reporting engine trouble.

TKEs begin reconstruction

JOHN BARTRAM/The Battalion

TKE president-elect Steve Gilmore, a community health major, and rush chairman Neil Campbell, a nuclear physics major, begin work on the new TKE lodge which will be located near highway 60. The TKEs have been homeless since last August, when the old Chance mansion burned to the ground.

Crime Stoppers

Police look for computer thief

In the early morning hours of Wednesday, Nov. 18 at the new chemistry building on the Texas A&M University campus, a thief found a way into the secured 1986 wing.

The thief crawled over the wall between the two offices, intent on stealing some computer equipment. As the thief was climbing the wall, he used a water faucet for a step and, in doing so, snapped the faucet.

The thief was successful in stealing a computer, before fleeing from the area.

The broken faucet leaked water into the chemistry lab for nearly two hours before being discovered. The equipment in the lab has been estimated to be worth over $150,000.

Lab officials report that the computer was a Macintosh Model 4/40 with a serial #FG146140022. Texas A&M University detectives report that this lab had been burglarized twice in October, and computer equipment was taken. A Hyundia 286 computer, two Suga Monitors with VGA cards, and a Hewlett-Packard Printer Model HP22265 were stolen.

This week the University Police Department and Crime Stoppers need your help to identify the persons responsible for this burglary. If you have information that could be helpful, call Crime Stoppers at 775-TIPS.

When you call, you will not have to give your name. Crime Stoppers will assign you a special coded number that will be used to protect your identity.

If your information leads to an arrest and grand jury indictment, Crime Stoppers will pay you up to $1,000 in cash. Crime Stoppers also pays cash for information on any felony crime or the location of any wanted fugitive.
