Morrison wins WBO title by decision

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LAS VEGAS - Tommy Morrison turned a meeting of punchers into a boxing match Monday night, frustrating a normally calm George Foreman and scoring a unanimous 12-round decision that most likely ended one of boxing's great comebacks.

Morrison used constant movement to hold off the plodding but big-hitting former heavyweight champion, piling up points in a fight few had expected to go

Foreman, 44, always seemed a step slow and a fraction of a second late in throwing his punches, and was never

12-round loss could end Foreman's comeback able to use the power that earned him 67 knockouts in 75 previous fights. Foreman, a look of utter determination on his face, tried desperately to put his younger opponent away in the last few rounds. But Morrison didn't give him an angle to take advantage of his biggest

All three judges favored Morrison, and all by a wide margin. Judges Dalby Shirley and Patricia Jarman had it 117-110, and Jerry Roth scored it 118-109.

The Associated Press had Morrison ahead 115-112.

The loss was only the second for Foreman in 29 fights since he began his comeback six years ago after a decade outside And it was probably his last. Foreman has already signed for a television show on the fall TV schedule on which he plays a retired boxer.

"I had great times in boxing and I'm proud of what I've done," Foreman said. 'God bless boxing.'

The decision gave Morrison the lightly regarded WBO heavyweight title, the same crown Morrison had fought Ray Mercer for when he suffered his only loss in a devastating fifth-round knockout 18

"I've redeemed myself to become a more complete fighter," Morrison said before the fight.

The victory set up a possible fight between Morrison and WBC heavyweight champion Lennox Lewis, who watched from ringside along with WBA and IBF champion Riddick Bowe.

Although the judges handily favored Morrison, final statistics showed he landed only 260 punches to 225 for the former champion. But Morrison was the busier puncher, throwing 572 to 400 for Fore-

A&M looks to rebound against Long Beach State

By KEVIN LINDSTROM

The Battalion

OMAHA, Neb. - Texas A&M south-paw Kelly Wunsch, who takes the mound for A&M today in the elimination game against Long Beach State, said the A&M ballclub was frustrated by their performance in Sunday night's 13-8 loss to Louisiana Stat University, but is focused enough to get back on the winning track here in Omaha.

'I think we're going to be determined

Tomorrow to go out and win the game," Wunsch said.
Wunsch (7-1, 4.46 ERA) made the comments during A&M's practice Monday afternoon.

Wunsch

"We were pretty mad about not winning the LSU game," he said. "It was obvious that if it weren't for a few plays, we would have won that game easily. Today's game should come come down to whether the Long Beach batters can catch up with Wunsch's high-pow-ered pitching, if Wunsch can keep the Long Beach is more of a contact team, with only two batters that have more than five home runs.

"If I can get out there and throw strikes, then I'll be on to a pretty good start," Wunsch said. "If I can hold the other team to a few enough runs, we can score the runs we need to win. A&M is on a nine-game streak of hitting in double digits.

Long Beach is expected to throw their ace Daniel Choi. Choi was hit hard in Friday's game against LSU, only his second loss of the year.

Aggie head coach Johnson said A&M needs to force Choi to make his pitches. "If we try to hit home runs, we'll be in trouble quick," he said.

LBS earned a spot against A&M by defeating Kansas 6-1 Sunday, sending the Jayhawks home from their first College World Series appearance with a 0-2

Ironically, Kansas also had a high-error performance, committing four errors in the loss to LBS.

Johnson said A&M should rebound well from their five-error performance.
"I'm not concerned," he said. "But I'm not going to think that. I'm just out there to win the game."

Texas loses to Wichita State, 7-6

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Wichita State's Casey Blake knocked in the tying run wind a two-run single in the bottom of the eighth, then scored on an infield error to lift the seventh-seeded Shockers past Texas 7-6 in the College World Series second round Monday night.

Wichita State (57-16) moves into the Thursday semifinal in Bracket Two to await the survivor of Tuesday's 6:36 p.m. CDT elimination game between third-seeded Texas (51-15) and sixthseeded Oklahoma State (44-16). The Cowboys eliminated top-ranked, second-seeded Arizona State 5-4 earlier Texas had a 6-3 lead when the Shockers came up with four runs on two hits, four walks and an error in the bottom of the eighth.

Texas starter Ryan Kjos gave up his sixth hit as Richie Taylor singled to lead off the eighth and a two-ball count to Toby Smith ended Kjos' night. Freshman J.D. Smart came on for the Longhorns to walk Smith, Darren Dreifort and Joey Jackson to force in a run. Blake followed with a two-run single past Texas first baseman Braxton Hickman to tie the game.

Blake scored the go-ahead run two outs later on an error that would have ended the inning but Texas shortstop Tim Harkrider couldn't come up with Carl Hall's ground ball up the middle. Jerry Taylor hit his seventh homer of the season in the second and Texas added three more in the third with RBI singles from College Player of the Year Brooks Kieschnick and Stephen Larkin and a sacrifice fly by Joel Williamson.

Hall singled in one for Wichita State in its half of the third but Williamson made it 6-1 Texas with his fifth homer of the year with one on in the fifth.

Shocker Dreifort, who joined Kieschnick as a first-round major league draft pick Thursday, hit his 11th home run in 11 games with Toby Smith on in

Dreifort's first homer of the College World Series gave Wichita State a 4-3, 11-inning win in the first round against
