Sheila Morgan, senior outside attacker, said, "It's really nice to sit down and talk with her (Laurie). It helps since she brings a player's prospective to coaching."

Laurie comes to A&M from Santa Clara University, where she served as the Broncos head coach for three years. During her tenure, the Broncos posted a 61-35 record.

Laurie also received a number of honors during her stay in the West Coast Conference (WCC).

In her second season at Santa Clara, Laurie earned WCC Co-Coach of the Year after directing the Broncos to a 26-11 record and their first ever postseason appear-

Last season, she was given WCC and West Region Coach of the Year honors for her work in leading the Broncos to their first invitation to the NCAA tournament and a season record of 21-

Laurie's head coaching career began at the University of San Francisco in 1986. She served USF for four years compiling a 39-71 record. The WCC named her Coach of the Year in 1987 when USF finished third in the conference.

Prior to coaching, Laurie had a long and varied playing career. From 1978-1984, Laurie played for the United States Women's National Volleyball team. She was a two-time member of the U.S. Olympic Team, winning a silver medal at the 1984 Olympic games in Los Angeles.

In 1987 Laurie played in Major League Volleyball with the Sar Jose Golddiggers. In MLV's firs year, Laurie was named the Most Valuable Player.

Some got individual praise for their skills and others walked away with broken pieces of their dream in their heads. As for those who remained, their individual fate in the hands of two scouts. Unfortunately, these "chosen ones," will remain in the gray zone of baseball – not knowing if they made their dream come true or if they to will fall by the wayside. Regardless, they still will have their experience to tell about. These Major League tryouts are exactly the vehicle through which many young men can ful-fill these childhood dreams. These dream-filled ball players came from Houston, Dallas, Navasota and Plantersville. All had aspirations that they would somehow make an enormous impression. And without question, anyone of the participants on that field would have donned an Indians uniform on any day, but especially would have done so to-

Nevertheless, the experience of trying out for a professional baseball team will never be paralleled. Even though few will make it in any sort of professional base ball, it was definitely an unforgettable memory for each individual and will be at the very least, a great story to tell the grandchildren.
