GOOD TIMES, BAD TIMES

Texas A&M and Louisiana State have given each other plenty of headaches over the years on the football field. In 1990, A&M visited Baton Rouge with a 3-0 record, ranked 11th in the nation. An unranked LSU team profited from A&M tailback Darren Lewis (upper left) being ejected from the game in the second quarter on a controversial referee decision. LSU rolled as Tiger wide receiver Todd Kinchen scored two touchdowns with 215 all-purpose yards in a 17-8 season setback.

However in 1991, Greg Hill (lower left) burst on the scene in A&M's season opener. In his first collegiate game, Hill rushed for 212 yards, the best ever total by a Division I-A freshman running back first collegiate game. His running set the tempo as A&M began their drive toward their first Cotton Bowl appearance since 1987 with a 45-7 victory. Senior quarterback Bucky Richardson was injured but Jeff Granger picked up the slack by completing 5-of-8 passes for 89 yards while rushing for a touchdown.

The seventh-ranked Aggies continued their winning ways in 1992 by beating LSU 31-22. It was A&M's first victory in Baton Rouge since 1975. Hill had 98 yards rushing while sophomore Rodney Thomas had 96 yards rushing.
