Lady Aggie spikers split weekend

Fifteenth-ranked Gators bite Aggies on Sunday...

By David Winder

THE BATTALION

After upsetting 21st-ranked Florida State Friday night, the Texas A&M women's volleyball team tried to go two-for-two against ranked teams from the sunshine state over the weekend.

Instead, they spent the better part of Sunday trying to catch up to the 15th-ranked Florida Lady Gators as the Lady Aggies fell in four games by scores of 6-15, 15-12, 7-15, 8-15 at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

A&M drops to 8-3 while Florida improves to 8-2.

"We needed to play defense and pass a lot better," senior setter and outside hitter Genny Wood said. "They were a very offensive team and we just didn't have it mentally a lot of the time."

"We just didn't have the all-around aggressiveness against their big girls and their offense."

The Lady Aggies were led by senior outside hitter Shelia Morgan, who recorded 21 kills and a team-high .326 hitting percentage. Senior middle blocker Amy Kising led the team with 14 digs, while sophomore setter Suzy Wentz led the team in assists with 45.

"I don't know what the deal was," Morgan said. "We just weren't intense enough when we needed to be. It's kind of hard for everyone to come together as a team and accomplish what we need to accomplish."

Florida was led by middle blocker Aycan Gokberk with a career high 27 kills and a match high .581 hitting percentage.

"They have an offense that we haven't seen much of," head coach Laurie Corbelli said. "They ran a high two in the middle from the left, the right and with number 11 (Gokberk) out of the middle."

"They were very effective at it, our blockers were pretty lost."

The Lady Aggies will take on Texas Tech Wednesday at 7 p.m. at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

...But Aggies chop 21st-ranked Seminoles Friday

By Matthew J. Rush

THE BATTALION

The Texas A&M Lady Aggie volleyball team defeated the 21st-ranked Florida State Seminoles, taking three games out of four Friday night at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

A&M outlasted the Seminoles by scores of 15-13, 15-13, 14-16, 15-11.

After A&M senior Shelia Morgan gave the Aggies a side-in with one of her 25 total kills in the match, sophomore Suzy Wentz ended game one with a hit down the line.

After splitting the next two games, A&M put away the match in game four. The two teams were tied at eight until the Aggies won seven out of the next 10 points to take a 15-11 victory.

Senior hitter Kim Mitchell said she was excited about the win.

"We knew if we do the things we have to, we should be with any team," Mitchell said. "We had something to prove."

Will your company grow as fast as you do?

Almost every company's recruiting ad promises you rapid growth. But before making any decisions, ask them how fast they're growing. After all, you're going to have trouble moving up if your company isn't.

Over the last five years, while economic conditions have stalled many organizations, Andersen Consulting grew on the average of 20% per year.

Compare that figure to any other firm you're considering. It could be the difference between getting ahead. And banging your head.
