A&M spikers set for weekend match-ups

By Nick Georgandis

THE BATTALION

The Texas A&M women's volleyball team heads into this weekend's matches with a sparkling 18-4 record and squares off with a pair of teams headed in totally opposite directions.

Tonight at 7 p.m., the Lady Aggies battle the red-hot Northern Illinois Huskies at G. Rollie White Coliseum. The Huskies have a record of 15-2 and are riding a 12-game winning streak. They have not lost a single game in their last nine matches.

Lady Aggie head coach Laurie Corbelli said she believes this match-up will help show how good A&M is performing right now.

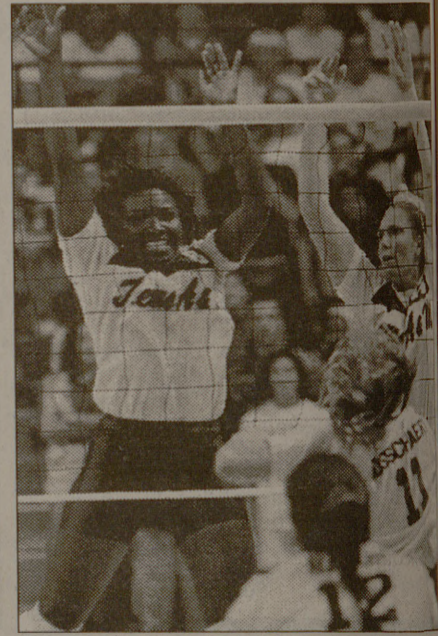

"(The Huskies) are a real solid team, with a very fast offense and very good ball control," Corbelli said. "They have played tough with some very good teams. We know they're considered to be very good."

"We have not risen to the occasion like we would have liked to against better teams. It's a significant non-conference match for us."

Saturday, the Lady Aggies will host the Northeast Louisiana Lady Indians at 7 p.m. The Indians will enter the game with a dismal 5-17 record.

However, senior outside hitter Sheila Morgan said she thinks the Lady Indians will be tougher than their current record indicates.

"I think they will come in here and play us really well," Morgan said. "Anybody who plays us, no matter who they are, when they see that Aggie maroon, they want to beat us."
