Moon, Oilers trip Seahawks, 24-14

The Associated Press

HOUSTON — Warren Moon gave himself some job security on Sunday.

After being assured by coach Jack Pardee that he would be the starter as long as he remained successful, Moon had the 37th 300-yard passing day of his career in leading the Houston Oilers over the Seattle Seahawks 24-14.

Moon threw two touchdown passes as Houston (4-4) won its third straight game. Al Del Greco missed his first extra point since 1989, ending his team record streak of 76 in a row, but kicked three field goals for the Oilers.

Rookie quarterback Rick Mirer threw one touchdown pass for Seattle (4-5). He left the game with two minutes left because of an injured left foot.

Moon hit his first eight passes of the day, including a 3-yard touchdown pass to Webster Slaughter.

The Oilers took a 22-7 halftime lead, aided by Del Greco's kicks of 33, 51 and 39 yards.

Game, set and crash for ASU.

Watching Arizona State play was a totally different experience than viewing a Texas A&M game because there is a personal connection to what happens on the field. It was an exciting three hours to watch number 51 running around the field, making blocks and directing the offensive line like a four-year starter and All-Conference selection should.

After the game was over, though, I realized it could be the last time I ever see him put on the shoulder pads and strap on the helmet.

Sure, the National Football League is a definite possibility, and nobody would like to see him become a professional more than me. But that is the future which, as we all know, is very unpredictable.

The only predictable thing right now is Arizona State will push for a bowl bid and Mills will be right in the center of the shoving.

All bias aside, go Devils.

Cowboys blowout Giants, 30-9

The Associated Press

IRVING, Texas — Troy Aikman got the Dallas Cowboys back into first place the hard way.

Aikman put on an impressive display of marksmanship Sunday that included 10 consecutive completions and two touchdown passes to Alvin Harper before leaving with a slight hamstring strain in a 30-9 victory over the New York Giants.

The defending Super Bowl champions earned their sixth consecutive victory after starting the season 0-2 without Emmitt Smith. The Giants dropped to 5-3 and fell a game behind the Cowboys in the NFC East.

Aikman went down while being chased by defensive end Keith Hamilton with 9:30 left in the third period and Dallas leading 17-6. Aikman's left shoe stuck to the artificial turf and he collapsed with a grimace.

Aikman returned to the sidelines in street clothes as Jason Garrett quarterbacked the team.

Smith scored on runs of 1 and 2 yards in the fourth period to end two 51-yard drives that put the game away.

The second touchdown was set up by a surprise 46-yard Harper-to-Irvin pass.

Smith rushed 24 times for 117 yards and left with the game well in hand late in the fourth period.

Aikman injured

The Associated Press

IRVING, Texas — Troy Aikman, who had completed 11 of 12 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns, was forced to leave Sunday's game with the New York Giants in the third quarter with what was diagnosed as a left hamstring strain.

Aikman, who completed his first 10 passes, was hurt with 9:30 left in the period as he tried to scramble away from Giants' defensive end Keith Hamilton while rolling out on a pass play. He went down without contact as his left leg buckled beneath him.

Cowboys' spokesman Rich Dalrymple said it wouldn't be determined until Monday if Aikman would be available for next week's game against Phoenix.
