 one run off three hits.
 Johnson said he was pleased with Atchley's performance, especially since Atchley has been recovering from elbow surgery.
 "Justin has come along well," Johnson said. "He was just throwing strikes out there. In two of those innings he only threw about seven pitches."
 "At this stage, we just want him to get stronger. Today we didn't want him to go over 60 or 70 pitches."
 With the win, Atchley said he answered some questions to himself and was very pleased with the answers.
 "I never pitched in front of this many fans," Atchley said. "Now I know I can throw at this level. I was real nervous and just wanted to go out and throw strikes."
 "I feel pretty good and the arm has not felt bad. There is no pain on it. I just went out three strikes and got my job done."
 A&M used a total of four pitchers during the game.
 John Codrington, who pitched two innings of relief, blanked the Lions (0-2) while only allowing two hits and getting one strikeout. Brian Covington worked one inning without allowing a run. Jason Chesson allowed one run and two hits as he worked the ninth inning.
 Chris Laiche got the loss for the Lions as he allowed eight

A&M first baseman John Curl (22) slides into home on a fielders choice past Southeastern Louisiana catcher Bill Tadlock (22). Although Curl was called out, A&M beat the Lions 10-2.
 Freshman second baseman Rich Schallenberg replaced him with one out remaining in the fourth inning.
 Harris did not have a hit, yet scored two runs for the Aggies after being walked three times.

 down 4-2, outfielder Shelley Toney singled to center and Sarah Stout followed with a two-out home run to left-center field.
 The score remained tied until the bottom of the eleventh when Merry Mapp crushed the game-winning home run over the left field wall.
 "I've never had a game-winning home run," said Mapp. "It was a rush."
 Head coach Bob Brock was pleased with the comeback wins, attributing it to the team's talent.
 "We're really fortunate to display the talent that is able to come back," Brock said. "I think it is conducive of the kind of talent we do have."

 Brock was especially pleased with the pitching performance of Kassie Wilcox who came into the second game to pitch ten innings of shutout ball.
 "I think Kassie Wilcox really proved why she has been able transfer over to Texas A&M," said Brock. "This is her first big game back in two years."
 The Lady Aggies will travel to Grand Prairie for the Inter-Collegiate Softball Tournament hosted by the University of Texas at Arlington. The tournament will feature many of the nation's top 20 teams.

Burket
 "Beth is a great player," she said. "I like her because she's not just a player who gets the job done. She's a type of player that comes up with the offensive rebounds when you need it. My job is to get Beth involved with our offense."
 Burket said she has grown since her first year at A&M. She is happy about this season's success. She also said the team maturing and having a program only benefits the program.
 Not getting as much attention as the other starters does bother her.
 "It really doesn't bother me," Burket said. "The recognition is deserved of the players who do it. I'm just happy about winning."
 Burket is a very loyal and dedicated player, Hickey said.
 "She's one of the rare ones consumed with the game of basketball," Hickey said. "I have to worry about Beth to get for practice."
 Burket said she was in awe of the fan support this season, especially against Texas Tech University on Feb. 5.
 "It really does help," Burket said. "It's a good feeling. It encourages everyone to keep coming out to the games."
 Burket said the team is grateful for Houston and will have a lot of care of business.
 "At this point, we have to take care of what we know we can do," Burket said. "I think we need to take care of business. We have to keep our levels of expectations high."
 Hickey said they have to be defensive, pressure, turnovers and control the tempo of the game.
 "A major key will be rebounding," Hickey said. "We have to stop the offensive transition."
 Hickey said it will be a tough game. She said if the team wins tonight and against Oral Roberts on Saturday, it will give the team cushion for the two home games against Texas Christian University and Southern Methodist University next week.
 Tip off against the Louisiana Cougars (8-11, 3-6 in SWC) will be at 7 p.m. at Hofheinz Pavilion in Houston. The Lady Aggies are the sole possession of first place in the University of Texas System SMU last Saturday.

Men's tennis team defeats USL 5-2
 From Staff and Wire Reports
 The Texas A&M men's tennis team improved its season to 3-0 by defeating Southwestern Louisiana 5-2 Tuesday.
 The Aggies swept USL in the doubles portion of the match, while senior Mark Weaver, freshman Robbie Krause, junior Ricardo Rodarte and sophomore Eric Horan contributed singles wins.
 "Our doubles teams played extremely well and we took care of business in the singles," A&M head coach David Kent said.
