U.S. team to use new lineup
Injury to forward Wegerle causes change

MISSION VIEJO, Calif. (AP) - The United States has used 18 different lineups in 18 games this season. In Saturday's World Cup opener against Switzerland, coach Bora Milutinovic will make it 19-for-19.

"I'm sure he has his own game plan for every game we'll play," forward Frank Klopas said Monday, five days before the Americans' World Cup opener against Switzerland.

Roy Wegerle, the most experienced forward on the U.S. team, said he won't be in the starting lineup against the Swiss.

Wegerle was injured Jan. 8 and had three arthroscopic operations on his right knee this spring, the last on April 15. He hasn't played a full game since Jan. 3, when he scored for Coventry City during a 1-1 tie with Swindon Town in England's Premier League.

Milutinovic wouldn't say whether he thought Wegerle was fit enough to play a full game, but the 30-year-old native of South Africa thought he was.

"I think I can, and I want to play," Wegerle said, "but that's what Bora's decided to do."

Wegerle, who married an American, became a naturalized U.S. citizen before the 1992 U.S. Cup exhibition tournament. He scored the goal for the United States in a 1-0 win against Mexico on June 4, the last World Cup warmup for the Americans.

In his only other action since the injury, he played 19 minutes against Saudi Arabia on May 25 and 13 minutes against Greece on May 28.

"There's no substitute for match fitness," he admitted.
