

Ohio State takes Pigskin win

Galloway catches record pass, George rushes for 90 yards

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Joey Galloway caught a record 67-yard touchdown pass and scored on a showy reverse Monday night as No. 20 Ohio State beat Fresno State 34-10 in the Pigskin Classic.

Galloway, a wide receiver who is one of four returning starters on offense, starred in the second half after teammate Eddie George dominated the game's opening 30 minutes with two 1-yard TD runs.

George, a 230-pound junior tailback, finished with 90 yards on 24 carries and the two touchdowns. He carried seven straight times on the Buckeyes' opening drive, culminating in a 1-yard plunge over the middle for his first touchdown.

The Buckeyes, 10-1-1 last season with a victory over Brigham Young in the Holiday Bowl, scored on three of their first four possessions.

Tim Patillo intercepted Adrian Claiborne's pass at the Ohio State 33 and 11 seconds later, Bobby Hoying connected with Galloway for the record 67-yard scoring pass for a 14-0 lead with 2:03 remaining in the first quarter.

forced to punt from the Ohio State 42.

George took over the ball, running on seven of Ohio State's next nine plays en route to another 1-yard charge up the middle and a 21-0 lead. Josh Jackson's 24-yard field goal increased Ohio State's lead to 24-7 in the opening minutes of the third quarter.

Galloway showed off his running ability on his second TD. He started left, then reversed his field around the right end for an 8-yard score and a 31-10 lead at 12:00 in the third. Jackson added a 33-yard field goal to make it 34-10 with 6:17 to play.

The Bulldogs, 8-4 last season, had to replace quarterback Trent Dilfer, a first-round draft pick of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Claiborne, a red-shirt sophomore, completed a 4-yard pass to Michael Pittman for Fresno State's only TD at 5:49 of the second quarter.

Claiborne finished 12-for-23 for 139 yards. Pittman had 7 yards on 25 carries.

to help us. We just didn't realize early enough that no human being on the face of the earth is worth three million dollars a year.)

"It is not the player's fault that almost half of the owners are about to go bankrupt. Nobody forced them to pay such high salaries. They can institute revenue sharing without the aid of a salary cap."

(We'd rather let the league fold than give up any part of our salaries. Fringe benefits such as meal money and travel expenses really don't add up to much. Besides, if all the teams have the same amount of money to spend, some guys are going to have to play for Milwaukee for quite a few years.)

"You know guys, you both have some really great points, but I really can't decide. I think you're just going to have to work it out amongst yourselves."

(I really don't care if you ever play again you greedy s.o.b.s. You better hurry up and get this thing settled before nobody cares if you come back or not.)

Pullig

Senior wide receiver Chris Sanders says he sees Pullig stepping up and carrying some responsibility on his shoulders.

"Corey is starting to be that leader," said Sanders. "He's starting to get on us more about running routes and doing the little things."

Pullig, who threw 300 passes a day over the summer, says this season's attack will not differ too much from last year's offense. The big change will happen in the number of big play opportunities that could come about. Pullig says the running game and short pass plays have to be successful before a true passing game can open up.

"Once we establish the underneath game then we'll be able to go over the top," Pullig said.

An offensive line that lost four All-Southwest Conference players must rebuild for Pullig and the Aggies to have a successful year. Not only will the Aggies have to replace the line blocking talents, they also lost the experience and leadership of four seniors.

"I think the offensive line is going to surprise a lot of people," Pullig said. "One thing they've got in their favor is their athletic ability which enables them to compensate for their lack (of experience). We're going to find five starters who are quality guys."

Pullig insists that the team's desire to compete will not change even with no incentive at the end of the season because of NCAA probation.

"We've got a lot of competition on the team," Pullig said. "One thing that will come out is the competitiveness and heart in our players."

The TI-68 solves up to five simultaneous equations. Has complex number functions. Offers formula programming. Even has a last equation replay feature. All at a great price.

The TI-85 builds on the functionality of the TI-68 and adds a wide range of graphing capabilities. So math students can handle calculus problems more easily. And technical students can see the functions for a better understanding of problems. The TI-85 also handles complex numbers, matrices, vectors, lists and strings. Plus it offers a powerful one-equation SOLVER.

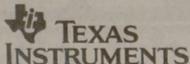

Get Serious.

Engineering, math or science major? Serious stuff. Get a TI-68 Advanced Scientific or TI-85 Graphing Calculator from Texas Instruments. They're designed for students and professionals and recommended by professors.

Get the serious functionality you demand at a price you can afford. Try a TI-68 or TI-85 at your local TI retailer today, or for more information, call 1-800-TI-CARES.
