

ANNOUNCING TWO NEW CREF ACCOUNTS

YOU'RE LOOKING AT TWO COMPLETELY OPPOSITE, FUNDAMENTALLY DIFFERENT WAYS TO INVEST IN STOCKS. WE RECOMMEND BOTH.

Introducing the CREF Growth Account and the CREF Equity Index Account.

Whether you want a fund that selects specific stocks or one that covers the market, we're on the same page. Our new CREF Growth and CREF Equity Index Accounts use two distinct strategies for investing in the stock market, but both aim to provide what every smart investor looks for: long-term growth that outpaces inflation.*

The CREF Growth Account searches for individual companies that are poised for superior growth. In contrast, the Equity Index Account looks for more diversification, with a portfolio encompassing almost the entire range of U.S. stock investments. It will invest in stocks in the Russell 3000** a broad index of U.S. stocks.

Like our CREF Stock Account, which combines active, indexed, and foreign investing, and our Global Equities Account, which actively seeks opportunities worldwide, the new funds are managed by experienced investment professionals. They're the same experts who have helped make TIAA-CREF the largest pension system in the U.S., managing over $130 billion in assets.

To find out more about our new stock funds, and building your portfolio with TIAA-CREF, just call 1 800-842-2776. And take your pick.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.™

*The new funds are available for Retirement Annuities subject to the terms of your institution's plan. They are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuities.
**The Russell 3000 is a registered trademark of the Frank Russell Company. Russell is not a sponsor of the CREF Equity Index Account and is not affiliated with it in any way. For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800-842-2776, ext. 5529 for a CREF prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money. CREF certificates are distributed by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services, Inc.

Religion belongs in religious groups, not school curriculum

In recent years, the debate about prayer in school has become more prevalent. No matter which side you are on, there are certain facts that must be considered. When America was established, our founding fathers recognized the implication of religion in a free society. Many of the people came to America to escape religious persecution. They wanted to be able to practice their own beliefs without the imposition of others.

The concept of freedom of religion works in two different ways. To be able to follow your own beliefs, and also to not have others' beliefs forced upon you. In Heidi W. Voges' Sept. 8 letter to the Battalion, she stated that our earliest schools began in churches. This may be true, but most of the earliest settlers were Christian. If a group of people are all of the same religion, that is fine. Texas A&M is a school of 40,000 students of countless different religions. I am Jewish, I would not like being expected to pray in class name. Neither would I expect an atheist to pray to God.

Mark Twain said: "Everybody could be a kind of a Christian he wanted to; there was perfect freedom in the matter. But I confined my religious teaching to the churches and the Sunday schools, permitting nothing of it in my educational buildings. I could have given my own sect the preference and made everybody Presbyterian without any trouble, but that would have been to affront a law of human nature: spiritual wants and instincts are as various in the human family as are physical appetites, complexions and features, and a man only at his best, morally, when he is equipped with the religious garment whose color and shape and size most nicely accommodate themselves to the spiritual complexion, angularity and stature of the individual who wears it."

If you want more religion in your life, join one of the many religious organizations on campus. If you want more religion in your curriculum, attend a private school.
