Bush, Richards focus on insurance rates

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards and Republican challenger George W. Bush dueled Wednesday over insurance and debates.

Bush proposed a no-fault automobile insurance plan which he said would lower rates. In addition, he accused the Democratic of breaking her campaign promise in 1990 to lower auto insurance rates.

"Texans who contrast her failed promise with my plan will see a huge difference between vague rhetoric and specific reforms which will work to lower the cost of automobile insurance," Bush said.

Richards said that she promised in 1990 to hold the line on insurance costs, despite numerous campaign ads that said she had a plan to lower rates.

She said Bush's criticism was part of his "fill in the blank" campaign.

Under Bush's plan, a person's auto insurer would pay off an accident claim regardless of who was to blame. He said it would provide prompt

Perot supports Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ross Perot says Americans should let Republicans "have a turn at bat" by giving near-blanket support to GOP candidates for Congress and handing Republicans control of both houses.

"I'm saying give these guys a chance," the Texas billionaire and 1992 independent presidential candidate advised.

Perot vowed that if Republicans win control of the House and Senate and don't deliver, then he would form a third party that would. He sidestepped whether he would run for president again himself.

Not suprisingly, his advice was loudly denounced Wednesday by the White House and Democratic leaders — who don't expect Perot's words to turn many votes but are too nervous about the upcoming midterm elections to risk letting them go by unanswered.

Republicans were gleeful.

"We welcome it. I was pleased by what he said," said Haley Barbour, chairman of the Republican National Committee. "When Perot called for the election of a Republican Congress, he was accurately reflecting the views of the 20 million people who voted for him in 1992."

Using a favorite forum, CNN's "Larry King Live," Perot suggested Tuesday night that voters support Republican candidates for the House and Senate across the board.

White House and Democratic leaders were quick to accuse him of trying to create mischief.

"My hope is that people will vote their self-interest, vote on the issues (and) not take Ross Perot's
