

overs
drug
a new tree,
cific North
se the treat
l, Scott said
ly produce biology, the
that would ott said.
enefits, Scott
from rare
be produce
could save
also has m

Carrie Thompson/The BATTALION
7-year-old Lauren Mandola, granddaughter of Vincent Mandola (not pictured) Class of '50, pets Reville during the Lady Aggies' volleyball game Saturday night.

Iraq

Continued from Page 1

identification cards and certificates of merit awarded by the military.

They yelled out their old street addresses in the Jahra neighborhood north of Kuwait City and showed how the pointed folds in their headresses are distinctively Kuwaiti.

"The government of Kuwait should give me my money, my house and my wife," said a 48-year-old oil inspector who gave his name as Abu Talal. He said he did not want to use his real name because his family and a fat savings account remained behind. "I am crying all the time. What am I supposed to do?"

He said he has not talked to his family since he was arrested in Kuwait four years ago. He said his leg was broken during torture and he was accused of collaborating with the Iraqis and jailed for two years before being expeled.

Others said they had thought about trying to cross the border six miles away but so far decided not to. "We all want to just walk there. But if we go back the Al-Sababs will probably kill us," said Hamoud Al-Thahir, 25.

Sentencing

Continued from Page 1

Dr. William Mobley, former A&M System Chancellor, knew the students and referred to them as exceptional people.

"The manner in which they died needs to be a flag to the students on this campus," Mobley said. "We need to solve the human problems in our society that lead to such things as this tragedy."

Broadus and Miller were last seen alive on May 22 at a small gathering of friends at a Red Bird Airport-area apartment complex.

Hardy's accomplice, his half-brother, 20-year-old Broderick Lavon Hardy, awaits trial next month.

Bonfire

Continued from Page 1

ended to Sims' complaint as quickly as it did.

I'm proud that the redpots are so quick in addressing the situation," Sosa said, "and I'm glad of their letters. This should prevent anything else from coming out of this situation. Their actions should be an example."

Sims said he believed the re-management of his accusations of racism were handled much better than responses to other accounts of racism on campus, including the College Republicans distribution of a some minority students offensive.

"I never really liked Bonfire in the past," Sims said. "Now, I think it's a great tradition."

because of those two letters, I can appreciate it a lot more, and I'm encouraged to go out and help and be a part of Bonfire.

"I want to see if it's not too late to put in my day's work at Bonfire, but I'll bet there aren't too many African-Americans wanting to jump up and join the College Republicans."

Sims said he had not wanted his complaints to have a positive impact on A&M, not cause a stir.

"I didn't want my letter to be taken as a black kid trying to start some mess," Sims said. "I just wanted to be a spark to the fire so others wouldn't be afraid to speak out."

"Racism is not dying. It's just getting older. And as it's getting older, it's getting wiser. And as it's getting wiser, it's finding better ways to disguise itself. We all have to try to prevent that."

"I think it's a great tradition."

Management Associate Program

H-E-B Grocery Company is a $5 billion enterprise headquartered in San Antonio, Texas. We are one of the fastest growing food retailers in the country with over 220 stores and 42,000 "Partners".

H-E-B currently has opportunities for high-talent, results oriented M.B.A. graduates with the desire to start on a progressive career track that leads to Senior Management. We need action oriented analytical people to set high standards and positively motivate others. If you are a self-starter willing to work in a team environment and have the ability to promote and maintain our "small company" ideals in this big business industry, we need to talk.

Food retailing is a fast-paced, exciting work environment. There are many facets to our business which include store operations, distribution, manufacturing, finance, information systems, advertising and others. The successful candidate will gain exposure to each of these areas, which will be beneficial in determining the direction of his own career path and personal growth.

We will be giving a presentation on campus for first and/or second year MBA students on October 24, 1994 at the Rudder Conference Center from 6pm to 8pm. An Equal Opportunity Employer.

MSC Political Forum Presents:
10 Rep. Candidate for State Comptroller
Teresa Dogget
 Wednesday, October 19, 1994
 7:00 pm Rudder 601

Persons with disabilities please call us at 845-1515 to inform us of your special needs. We request notification three (3) working days prior to the event to enable us to assist you to the best of our ability.

The views expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of MSC Political Forum, The Msc, or Texas A&M University.

Retail Management Opportunities

SUCCESS TAKES ALL KINDS OF LEADERS

James Baldwin. Theodore Dreiser. Oscar Wilde. Virginia Woolf. Barnes & Noble.

All great names in literature. All leaders with the ambition, vision and creativity to succeed.

Now you can have the chance to make your name. With over 1,000 stores nationwide, Barnes & Noble, one of the most exciting retailers, is pushing ahead with tremendous excitement and even greater opportunities. We're looking for professionals who are as literate as they are likeable to lead us into the future.

When you join Barnes & Noble Inc., you'll be part of one great success story that includes such great names as:

- Barnes & Noble
- Bookstar
- Bookstop
- B. Dalton Bookseller
- Scribner's Bookstore
- Doubleday Book Shops
- Software Etc.

Right now, we have many opportunities for hardworking, customer-oriented entrepreneurial individuals with a real desire to achieve. In exchange for your time and talents, Barnes & Noble Inc. offers dynamic growth potential, management training, competitive starting salaries, medical/dental insurance, tuition reimbursement and a 401(k) savings plan.

We will be on campus for an information session on November 2nd, 6-7:30PM, Room 707 in The Rudder Building. Interviews will be conducted on November 3rd & 4th. Please contact your Career Development Office for more information.

Barnes & Noble
 Booksellers Since 1873

We are an equal opportunity employer M/F

Computing Toolbox

A weekly column dedicated to computing at Texas A&M

CIS opens West Campus Computing Center

The new West Campus Library—home of the West Campus Computing Center (WCCC).

Computing and Information Services (CIS) is proud to announce that the West Campus Computing Center (WCCC) in the new West Campus Library opened October 13. The WCCC is oriented towards microcomputers, with 110 486 DX/2 66 megahertz IBM-compatible PCs, 20 multimedia 486 DX/2 66 megahertz Level 2 PCs, and 30 Macintosh Quadra 660AVs. Facility users also have access to CD-ROM drives on the multimedia PCs.

In January 1995, when the College of Business moves to West Campus, the West Campus Computing Center will have two Hewlett-Packard LaserJet 4si printers. The Kodak 1392 Model 44 printer will also be moved from the Academic Computing Center (ACC) in Blocker to the WCCC facility.

The West Campus Computing Center is a well-designed and comfortable environment in which to work. The Center is fully-carpeted and has new ergonomic lab furniture. There is also a classroom available for computer instruction and CIS short courses.

The CIS Help Desk at the WCCC is staffed to answer both general computing questions and questions specific to micro-computing. Documentation, including handouts, manuals, and users guides, is available. The WCCC facility is currently open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and will be open 24-hours-a-day starting in January 1995. We hope that you will take advantage of these resources and we invite you to come by the WCCC and check out our new facilities! Call 862-3139 for more information.

Dr. Samia Massoud
 CIS Customer Help and Training

Computing Toolbox is published by Computing and Information Services (CIS) at Texas A&M University. Please send comments, topic suggestions, and questions for the Computing Wizard to SUGGEST@TAMU.EDU or call 845-9325. We want your input!