

Want to take an Honors course next fall?
Want to know more about Honors classes and professors?
Do you have a 3.25 GPA or higher?

Come on out to the Fall '94

Honors Scheduling Consortium

Monday, November 7, 1994
7:30 - 8:30 p.m.
201 MSC

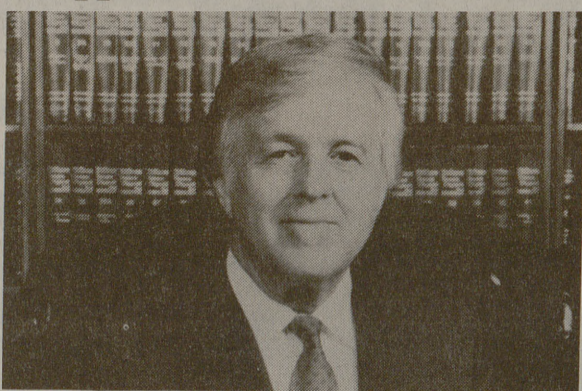

Sponsored By
Honors Student Council

A great chance to find out about Honors courses by meeting professors, discussing course materials, viewing syllabi, and asking questions. Copies of the newly revised Honors Course Guide will also be available.

Elect an Aggie Judge with Common Sense
Bob Moore, Class of '56
14th Court of Appeals, Place One

- Bob Moore is "Aggie Tested"
He was Company Commander of "C" Troop Armor
Aggie delegate to SCONA I
Served 2 years in U.S. Army as a Recon Platoon Leader Combat Ready-3rd Armored Division in Germany

Bob Moore - Recent WINNER of the Houston Bar Poll - 14th Court of Appeals, Place One.

Endorsed by:

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE
THE HOUSTON POST
THE JEWISH HERALD-VOICE
SHERIFFS:

- Bobby Riggs, Brazos County
Phil Burkhalter, Chambers County
Joe Max Taylor, Galveston County
Bill Foster, Grimes County
Brent Phillips, Trinity County
Dale Meyers, Walker County
Randy Smith, Waller County

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS:

- Bill R. Turner, Brazos County
Jim M. Maple, Brazoria County
Charles J. Sebesta, Jr., Burleson County
W.C. "Bud" Kirkendall, Colorado County
Michael J. Guarino, Galveston County
David S. Barron, Grimes County
Joe L. Price, Trinity County
David P. Weeks, Walker County
Sherry L. Robinson, Waller County
Charles J. Sebesta, Jr., Washington County

LAW ENFORCEMENT GROUPS:

- Combined Law Enforcement Assn. of Texas
Dickinson Police Officers' Association

- Galveston Firefighters' Association
Galveston Municipal Police Officers' Assn.
Harris County Deputy Sheriffs' Union
Houston Police Officers Association
International Union of Police Associations
Texas Conference of Police and Sheriffs
Afro-American Sheriff's Deputy League
Houston "C" Club
Association of Women Attorneys
Citizens for Qualified Judges

Qualifications:

- Class of '56, Texas A&M
South Texas College of Law, Juris Doctor
30 years of broad trial experience, civil and criminal, with extensive appellate experience
"AV Rating" Martindale-Hubbell
Top Secret Clearance, US Army Officer
Men's Walk to Emmaus #74 - April, 1993
Member, Bible Study Fellowship - 4th Year
Member, St. Patrick's Catholic Church

Elect Bob Moore, 14th Court of Appeals, Place One

Pd. Pol Adv. Bob Moore for Justice Campaign, Linda Lee Moore, Treasurer, 7511 Broadway, Galveston, TX 77554.

Jury convicts abortion killer in 20 minutes

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A jury deliberated just 20 minutes Wednesday before convicting a former minister of murder in the shotgun slayings of an abortion doctor and his bodyguard.

Paul Hill, 40, could receive either life in prison or death in the electric chair. The jury will return Thursday to decide.

Hill, acting as his own lawyer, offered no defense during his three-day trial, refusing to make any statement or question any witnesses. Circuit Judge Frank Bell had barred him from arguing that the slayings were justifiable homicide to save fetuses.

"I have nothing to say, your honor," Hill said before deliberations began. He showed no emotion as the verdict was read. His mother, Louise Hill of Atlanta, burst into tears while his wife, Karen, remained composed.

Wielding a 12-gauge shotgun, Hill ambushed Dr. John B. Britton, 69; his unarmed bodyguard, James H. Barrett, 74; and Barrett's wife, June, 68, as the three arrived at the Ladies Center abortion clinic on July 29.

He was convicted of attempted murder for wounding Mrs. Barrett.

Last month, he became the first person convicted of violating the new federal law against harassing or using violence against people entering abortion clinics. He could get up to life in prison at sentencing Dec. 9.

Before the shootings, Hill had openly advocated killing abortion doctors. He said such slayings were divinely sanctioned.

"Now is the time to defend the unborn, the same way you'd defend slaves about to be murdered!" he shouted as he was taken to jail after his arrest.

One of his supporters, Louisville attorney Vincent F. Heuser Jr., said Hill still believes he acted correctly.

Committee finds poor CIA effort in Ames spy case

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIA Director R. James Woolsey's response to the Aldrich Ames spy case has been "seriously inadequate," but his predecessors are ultimately to blame for the scandal, a Senate committee said Tuesday.

In a 117-page report, the Senate Intelligence Committee provided the most detailed description yet published of what it called a "disaster of unprecedented proportions," a setback that will take years to fully recover from.

Ames has admitted he betrayed more than 100 American and allied intelligence operations, the report said. He also knew about several hundred others that he may have compromised, but "he says he is unable to remember specifics," it added.

While stating that Woolsey's disciplinary action against 11 senior managers for their handling of the Ames case was too mild given the seriousness of the problem, the committee made no suggestion that he should resign.

The report said Woolsey should be allowed more time to make the changes he has promised, including measures to strengthen the counterintelligence, or internal spy-catching, function that failed so miserably to detect Ames' treachery.

Noting that Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, is the only member of the Intelligence Committee to publicly call for his resignation, Woolsey said at a news conference in Pittsburgh on Tuesday that he had no intention of quitting.

Woolsey defended his decision to issue letters of reprimand to seven retired and four current CIA managers — but not to fire or demote anyone — for their failure to apply enough resources to the internal hunt for a Soviet mole.

"I believe my decisions were fair and just," Woolsey said. "We should put cases and decisions behind us and move on to the challenges of managing counterintelligence."

Latest shuttle launch marks fifth environmental mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — It's a green year for NASA: The space agency Thursday launches the fifth shuttle flight of 1994 devoted to studying the state of the Earth.

That's more environmental missions than in any previous year.

Bad weather across the Atlantic threatened to scrub Atlantis' noontime launch, however.

NASA cannot launch a shuttle unless at least one of its three emergency landing sites in Spain and Morocco has acceptable weather. Thick clouds and high wind were expected at all three sites. Good weather was expected at Kennedy Space Center.

This will be the third shuttle mission in a row that's part of NASA's Mission to Planet

Earth, a program to understand such environmental changes as ozone depletion, deforestation and global warming.

It's the fastest growing part of NASA; funding has shot up 50 percent over the past four years, said program chief Charles Kennel. This year's budget is $1.2 billion.

"That's a sign of the times," Kennel said.

For 11 days, seven instruments aboard Atlantis will scour the stratosphere for ozone and other chemicals and examine solar energy.

It will be the third time in 2 1/2 years that these monitors have flown in space, but the first time in autumn, which is when a hole forms in the ozone layer over the Antarctic.

"Whoever drinks of the water that I will give him shall never thirst." -- John 4:14

"New Landscapes of the Heart: Expanding the Religious Imagination"

with Dr. Tom Troeger
Author, Poet, Flutist, Composer

Ralph E. and Norma E. Peck
Professor of Preaching and Communication
Iliff School of Theology, Denver

A&M United Methodist Church

417 University Dr. (across from the Northgate Post Office)
846-8731

Sunday, Nov. 6 -- 9 and 11 a.m.

"Rising River": exploring Ezekiel's vision of a growing tide of grace

Sunday, Nov. 6 -- 6:15 p.m.

"Where Plates of Bedrock Shift": shifts in culture, language and theology; the shaking of the foundations; and the temptations and possibilities for renewed faith

Monday, Nov. 7 -- 10 a.m. - 12 noon (followed by lunch)

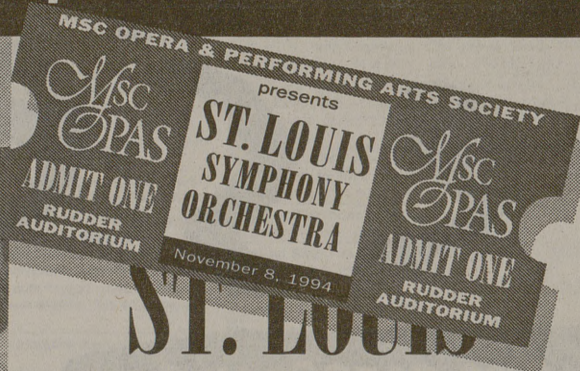

"In the Path of the Wind: New Strategies for Communicating the Gospel": a workshop for ministers and lay people; the character of communication in the mass media era

Monday, Nov. 7 -- 6:15 p.m.

"When There Is No Star to Guide You: The Necessity of a Community of Faithful Imagination": considering the necessity of the church as a community willing to risk new visions while maintaining trust in God and one another

Public invited, free of charge
The Chris Groneman Memorial Lectures

November 8, 1994 8:00 p.m. Rudder Auditorium

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Maestro Leonard Slatkin, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra has gained a reputation for fostering contemporary American music by performing numerous premieres and commissioned pieces. Now, YOU can hear why the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra is quickly becoming known as one of the finest orchestras in the world, as it performs its last tour under Maestro Slatkin's baton. The orchestra will also be joined by guest solo cellist Steven Isserlis.

Your Season! OPAS22

MSC OPERA & PERFORMING ARTS SOCIETY
Tickets are on sale at the MSC Box Office - TAMU, or charge by phone at 845-1234

Persons with disabilities please call 845-1515 to inform us of your special needs. We request notification three (3) working days prior to the event to enable us to assist you to the best of our ability.