Woodson leads Steelers past Buffalo

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If Rod Woodson hadn't been voted to the NFL's all-time team, the league might be demanding a recount. Woodson, single-handedly accounting for more scoring the last two weeks than Pittsburgh's offense, returned an interception for a touchdown and forced a fumble for another to lead the Steelers past the Buffalo Bills 23-10 Monday night.

Gary Anderson, again the only productive member of the Steelers' no-go offense, kicked three field goals to move into sixth place on the NFL's all-time list with 302 as Pittsburgh won for the second straight week without an offensive touchdown.

Woodson stepped in front of intended receiver Bill Brooks for a 37-yard interception return touchdown — the third of his career — to put Pittsburgh up 10-0 in the final minute of the first quarter.

Later, with Buffalo down only a touchdown after Jim Kelly's 19-yard scoring pass to Andre Reed, a blitzing Woodson dislodged the ball from Kelly near the goal line and defensive end Gerald Williams fell on it for his first touchdown in nine NFL seasons.

Rookie defensive tackle Brentson Buckner added to the Bills' growing frustration, blocking a 32-yard field goal attempt by Steve Christie later in the fourth quarter — Christie's first miss in 18 attempts this season.

Anderson, who last week kicked a field goal in overtime after Woodson forced a critical fumble in the Steelers' 12-9 victory over Houston, is 7-for-7 the last two weeks, 17-for-18 this season and 45-for-48 the last two seasons.

While the Steelers (7-3) again proved it's possible to win in the NFL without much offense — they've won three of their last four despite scoring only two offensive touchdowns — the Bills (5-5) are in desperate straits well before the Super Bowl.

With Kelly under constant pressure from a Steel Curtain-like Pittsburgh pass rush that leads the NFL in sacks, the Bills are .500 in November for the first time since finishing 7-8 in 1987.

Raiders in control of bowl bid

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Tech has the inside track for the Cotton Bowl, and Red Raiders coach Spike Dykes relishes the role.

When Baylor upended Rice 19-14 on Saturday, it left Texas Tech in control of its own destiny. By winning their final two games, against Houston on Saturday and TCU on Nov. 25, the Raiders can assure themselves the Jan. 2 spot as host of the Cotton Bowl.

"I was happy, I really was," Dykes said of the Baylor victory, which came shortly after his own team beat Southwestern Louisiana 39-7 in a nonconference game.

"When you control your own destiny, you've got no one to blame but yourself. We've never been in that position before, in my 10 years at Tech," Dykes said in a weekend telephone news conference with other SWC coaches.

The Raiders could even be in a position of having the Cotton Bowl berth wrapped up before they take the field against TCU.

If Tech gets by Houston and Texas A&M beats TCU on Saturday — both of which are expected to happen — a Texas victory over Baylor on Thanksgiving Day would clinch the Cotton Bowl for Tech regardless of how the Raiders fare the following day against TCU.

Such a scenario would give all the other teams at least three conference losses, and Tech would advance in a multiteam tie because it has never represented the SWC in the Cotton Bowl.

Rice beat Texas Tech and Texas to become the favorite to go to Dallas over New Year's, but then lost three of its next four games to open the door for Tech. The Owls would have virtually wrapped up the Cotton Bowl by holding off Baylor in the fourth quarter Saturday, but Baylor recovered two Rice fumbles and rallied for the victory.

NEWS BRIEFS

Tori upsets Texas' McDonald in three

Texas A&M freshman Carlos Tori upset Texas senior Ali McDonald 6-1, 3-6, 6-1 in the singles final of the Westwood Collegiate Invitational Sunday at the Westwood Country Club in Austin.

The Aggies, who are ranked No. 17 in the preseason national poll, also received good play from freshman Jonathon Creath, who won the consolation singles title with a 6-0, 6-2 blasting of Texas freshman Ricardo Derbez.

"Our freshman played extremely well in Austin," A&M coach David Kent said. "They tallied some very good wins, and it's always fun to win in your enemy's backyard. I'm proud of what they accomplished this weekend."

The rest of the A&M tennis team was in Houston at Rice's American West Challenge Cup. Junior Blake Arant reached the semi-finals of the 1st flight while senior Rico Rodarte reached the semis of the 2nd flight.

Lady Aggies' tennis team falls to Texas

Junior Lonna Logan tallied three wins before finally falling to Texas freshman Anne Pastor 6-3, 6-2 in the singles final of the Westwood Collegiate Invitational in Austin.

In the doubles final Logan and sophomore Julie Beahm were defeated by Christina Strangeland and Annika Kjellgren of Texas Christian, 6-4, 7-6.

A&M Michelle Prejan reached the consolation singles final, but fell to TCU's Charlotte Burgess 6-3, 6-1.

This day in Aggie football
