

THERAPY OR ABUSE?

If you were treated at one of the hospitals listed below between 1986 and 1991, please take note.

The company that owned these hospitals, National Medical Enterprises (NME), has been prosecuted for improper treatment of patients and insurance fraud. Federal and state authorities have investigated or prosecuted NME, and a number of insurance companies have successfully sued NME and recovered losses.

According to NME documents and court records:

- company hospitals admitted patients without clinical evaluations by licensed professionals
- NME billed insurance companies for treatments that never occurred
- a company Vice President paid more than $20 million in illegal kickbacks to secure insured patients for NME hospitals

If you were a patient at any of these hospitals, call to find out more:

- Arbor Creek Psychiatric Hospital (Sherman)
- Baywood Hospital (Webster)
- Bedford Meadows Hospital (Bedford)
- Brookhaven Psychiatric Pavilion (Dallas)
- Cedar Creek Hospital (Amarillo)
- Colonial Hills Hospital (San Antonio)
- Laurelwood Hospital (The Woodlands)
- Psychiatric Institute of Fort Worth (Fort Worth)
- Stafford Meadows Hospital (Stafford)
- Twin Lakes Hospital (Denton)
- Willowbrook Hospital (Waxahachie)
