Hat wearing incident about respect not racism

We disagree with the obscenities you unjustifiably received, but this shows our burning desire to uphold one of Texas A&M's long-standing traditions — one that pays respect for those Aggies, black or white, who have given their lives in the defense of their country in any war, past or future.

We believe those two men would have asked you to remove your hat no matter what your color. We would have done the same.

We are personally offended that you have no respect for those who have sacrificed their lives for you, while you hide behind the First Amendment and call this a racial incident.

We hope your disrespectful actions are not a representation of the entire NAACP.

The MSC is a memorial to those who have given their lives for your freedom and given you personally the First Amendment.

It's hard to believe you don't respect someone that has died for you.

A plaque in the MSC reads: "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down for his friends." John 15:13

This is an issue of respect, not racism. Uncover, Ags.

Editor's Note—
Tomorrow is the last day the Battalion will print any more Letters to the Editor concerning the Shawn Williams incident or wearing hats in the MSC.

Mistake in Aggieland made by monkeys

Howdy Ags. I'm writing regarding a section in the 1994 Aggieland. On page 383 it states that the Texas A&M Army ROTC program "won the MacArthur award for being the second most efficient and skilled program in the country." I was hoping someone could tell me who was first. You see, when I had the honor of accepting the award in Ft. Monroe, Va., the Secretary of the Army told me that we won first place. Unfortunately, I was really looking forward to having that story in my senior year Aggieland, so was everyone else in the program. Hundreds of people worked hard to win that award. I guess it's too much to ask for a reprint. I just hope that whatever monkey was in charge of that story is replaced next year by a new more intelligent monkey. Gig'em Ags.

Now, even if he's not using condoms,

you can.

Finally.

The REALITY® Female Condom is here.

And now, for the first time, you have protection of your own.

REALITY Female Condoms were designed to help protect you and your partner against sexually transmitted diseases, especially AIDS. They also help prevent unwanted pregnancies. When used correctly every time in 6-month clinical trials, REALITY had a 2.6% pregnancy rate.

Over a year's time, this is projected to be a 5.1% pregnancy rate. If not used correctly every time, the pregnancy rate increases to between 19-25%. Find out more about the REALITY condom by calling your doctor, pharmacist or 1-800-274-6601.

If saying "no" to sex is not for you and your partner, and he isn't using male latex condoms—take a closer look at REALITY.
