Rocket starting lineup more like injured list

HOUSTON (AP) — Iron supplements that should aid the anemic Hakeem Olajuwon and Vernon Maxwell can't work fast enough for the sinking Houston Rockets.

The Rockets have not taken the court as a full team since Clyde Drexler arrived from Portland in the Feb. 14 trade for forward Otis Thorpe.

Forwards Robert Horry and Carl Herrera have only recently rebounded from nagging injuries, and Maxwell missed 10 games for punching a fan in Portland, Ore. Now Olajuwon and Maxwell could miss two more games because of anemia.

It's been a long time since defending NBA champions have looked so wobbly.

"We're getting more than our share of tough luck," coach Rudy Tomjanovich said Wednesday. "We're going to be in a bit of a hole, but we've come out of deeper holes before."

The Rockets have lost four of five games to top Western Conference rivals over the past nine days and appear moving toward a sixth seed in the playoffs, the lowest of any reigning champ since 1970.

Now they're headed down the stretch without Olajuwon or Maxwell, who have somehow come down with the same non-communicable illness.

"We've had setback after setback after setback," Drexler said. "This is another in a long line of setbacks. We have to constantly make adjustments." Olajuwon and Maxwell skipped Tuesday night's 106-96 loss to the Los Angeles Lakers after complaining of fatigue. Both were diagnosed with iron-deficiency anemia by team doctor Jim Muntz.

A patchwork lineup Tuesday night had reserve forwards Pete Chilcutt and Chucky Brown — neither of whom were in the NBA a year ago — attempting to fill in for Olajuwon at center.

Former Notre Dame receiver not indicted

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Notre Dame receiver Mike Miller says he's ready for the NFL draft after a Fort Bend County grand jury no-billed him on charges of participating in a fake check scheme.

District Attorney John Healey said Tuesday that the grand jury's decision Monday not to indict Miller, in effect clears him of the charge.

"I just got word this morning, and I want people to know the truth — that I haven't done anything wrong," Miller said Tuesday.

Miller, 22, was arrested by police last November and accused of participating in a scheme to steal and forge checks to buy $50,000 worth of airline tickets, clothes and alcohol.

Defense lawyer Wendell Odom said Miller only received a $627 airline ticket from friends to travel from South Bend, Ind., to Houston last summer but didn't know the ticket was bought with a hot check.

"I missed out on football on my last year of school, basically for something I didn't do," Miller said.

The former Texas schoolboy star said he plans to petition Notre Dame for re-admission so he can finish the last two semesters of his degree work. He has submitted his name for next month's NFL draft.
