

Luna said. Under the bill, eligible Texans would be able to obtain licenses to carry concealed guns. They would be required to have 10 to 15 hours of training on gun use and pass a proficiency exam.

Six people were killed Monday when a former employee of a Corpus Christi refinery inspection business walked into the office and shot five people, then turned the gun on himself.

The slayings occurred just hours after the funeral of slain Tejano music queen Selena, who was gunned down Friday at a Corpus Christi motel.

The crime rampage has prompted victims' relatives and city officials to speak out against the gun bill.

Corpus Christi Police Chief Henry Garrett said.

"This whole city's in shock. We're walking around in a daze," Gar rett said. "How much of this type of violence do we have to put up with? Do we correct it by putting more guns out there?'

Selena's father issued a statement over the weekend urging law makers to oppose the bill.

Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, said he planned to speak with relatives of the slain singer and was looking at ways to chang the gun bill.

"I think that the bill ... leaves a lot to be desired," he said. Sen. Carlos Truan challenged Gov. George W. Bush, who supports concealed handgun legislation, to change his mind and oppose it.
