Arafat makes move toward violent, deadly showdown with opponents

Washington voices approval over PLO leader's stance after back-to-back bombings in the Gaza Strip left eight dead.

GAZA CITY, Gaza Strip (AP) — In a move that could push Palestinians closer to civil war, Yasser Arafat cracked down on Islamic militants Monday after suicide bombings killed seven Israelis and an American college student.

Arafat's security forces arrested 112 followers of Hamas and the smaller Islamic Jihad group after Sunday's deadly back-to-back bombings near two Jewish settlements in the PLO-ruled Gaza Strip.

Meanwhile, Washington applauded Arafat's tough position.

"We expect the Palestinian authority to take this type of concrete action against those within its jurisdiction who seek to destroy the peace process through acts of violence and terror," said State Department spokeswoman Christine Shelly.

But angry Islamic militant leaders raised the specter of civil war, apparently trying to force Arafat to back down.

"If he (Arafat) practices this behavior, we will defend ourselves by all means," warned Mahmoud Zahar, a leader of Hamas, the most powerful group opposing the faltering Israel-PLO accord.

Despite the tensions and anger, Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin told negotiators to resume talks with the Palestine Liberation Organization on arranging Palestinian elections and an Israeli troop pullback to allow Palestinian self-rule in the West Bank.

The bombings wounded more than 40 people, and two of them died Monday, including Alisa M. Flatow, a 20-year-old junior at Brandeis University on vacation in the region for Passover.

After doctors declared her brain dead, Alisa's father Steve authorized an operation to remove organs for donation. In a statement, he said his daughter loved Israel and "her lasting contribution to the people of Israel is that her organs were donated for the saving of lives in need."

The mood in Israel was somber with funerals held for the victims.

"Stop killing the soldiers," wailed Prima Regev as the body of her son, Staff Sgt. Yuval Regev.

A military court convened in a hastily arranged all-night session Monday, and the three-judge panel imposed a 15-year sentence on an Islamic Jihad activist for recruiting suicide bombers.

It was the first time a militant had been sentenced to jail, and Palestinian sources said Islamic Jihad leader Sheik Abdullah Shami would be next to stand trial.

Yusef, the PLO police chief, estimated that Hamas and Islamic Jihad had only about 150 armed fighters who could easily be disarmed by Arafat's 9,000 police. He was evasive, however, when questioned why this had not yet occurred.
