□ Detroit scored in the second overtime to beat Chicago 2-1.

DETROIT (AP) - After an absence of 29 years, the Detroit Red Wings are back in the NHL finals with a chance to win their first Stanley Cup championship in 40 years.

Vyacheslav Kozlov's goal

2:25 into the second over over-time period Sunday night gave Detroit a 2-1 victory over Chicago, eliminating the Blackhawks in the fifth game of the Western Conference finals.

Kozlov took a pass from Sergei Fedorov and skated past defenseman Chris Chelios. He put a good fake on Chicago goaltender Ed Belfour, who had been brilliant to that point, then blasted the puck between Belfour's pads.

Detroit last won the championship in 1955. That 40-year drought is longest in the NHL. The second longest belongs to the Blackhawks, who last won the Cup in 1961.

It was the third overtime game of the series. Detroit won all three.

Both goaltenders were superb. Belfour turned away all but two of 47 shots; Detroit's Mike Vernon faced 26 shots.

Belfour had most of the work in the first three periods, when he made 37 saves. Vernon made almost as many saves in the first overtime as he did in regulation as the Blackhawks finally outshot the Red Wings in a period, 11-7

Denis Savard scored a first-period goal for Chicago. Steve Yzerman tied it with a goal in the second period eager for more success

Belmont win has trainer

NEW YORK (AP) - With his Triple Crown streak at a record five straight victories, trainer D. Wayne Lukas already has his mind on No. 6. And maybe No. 7 and No. 8, as well.

"We sure have started think-ing about it," Lukas said Sun-day morning after Thunder Gulch's Belmont Stakes victory on Saturday gave the trainer a record fifth consecutive win in the series. "We've got good 2year-olds, so we ought to be in the Derby."

Even should a Lukas horse fail to win the next Derby, his five-race streak, which started with Tabasco Cat's wins in the 1994 Preakness and Belmont, appears to be a virtually unbreakable record.

A trainer either would have to have two or more colts with Triple Crown ability — as Lukas did — or win two consecutive Triple Crowns with one horse. No 3-year-old has won the Triple Crown since Affirmed became only the 11th to do it in 1978.

Mantle walks for first time since liver surgery

□ The Hall-of-Famer's next step in recovering is regaining his mobility.

DALLAS (AP) — Baseball great Mickey Mantle did something Sunday he hadn't been able to do in more than a week: He took a walk.

As a prescribed part of his recovery from liver transplant surgery last Thursday, the 63year-old got up out of his bed and walked to a chair.

Mantle's first steps with his new liver came a day after he was transferred from intensive care to a private room at Baylor University Medical Center.

Dr. Goran Klintmalm, medical director of the Baylor Transplantation Institute, said Mantle has emerged from his "first hazard zone.

Klintmalm had said Saturday that Mantle's mobility was the next goal, though he admitted moving to a chair might prove uncomfortable for the Hall of Famer. The next phase of Mantle's recovery is fighting off likely attempts by his body to reject the new organ. Klintmalm said Mantle runs a "60-65 pero risk" of having it happen. Klintmalm added that career, was also found.

Mantle also will res chemotherapy treatment week. He had one treatm during the transplant oper tion, and will continue beau of the possibility of tumor breaking free from Mant original liver during the

Gretzky portrayed an Elvis-like singer/waiter/hockey player who won the big game, got the girl and managed to perform a snappy musical number along the way.

"Super Mario" does not conjure up images of the black-and-gold uniforms of the Pittsburgh Penguins, but rather the red and gold of the Houston Rockets. The real "Super Mario" is Mario Elie, who won the seventh game of this year's Phoenix series with the biggest three-pointer of his life.

Speaking of Houston, I tried to follow the new Houston Aeros in the IHL this past year, but it didn't pan out. It's hard to introduce a new team to Houston when the city already possesses the kings of mediocrity, the Oilers and the Astros.

Why root for another team going nowhere? The Rockets may win another championship this week, but there is still 30 years of baseball and football frustration pent up in the Bayou City.

Hockey first became apparent to me when I began reading the sports section cover to cover as a child. I remember once coming across a box score that read "Oilers 5, Jets 2." Stunned and heartbroken,

I pondered how the Houston Oilers had played a game on a Wednesday night without mentioning anything to the rest of us.

I flipped through the sports section, frantically searching for the game story of the Oilers' low-scoring grudge match with the Jets. It was nowhere to be seen.

I read the box score a little more carefully, and noticed that these Oilers hailed from Edmonton, the defeated Jets from Winnipeg. I felt relieved, the Colum bia Blue had not betrayed But in days to come, I would continue to watch the trie and tribulations of the B monton Oilers on the spor page, silently rooting for team I had never seen play. Was this a case of being hockey fan and not knowi it? No, it simply defined " lack of reading comprehen sion skills as a child. Once was established that the was another team with the moniker 'Oilers', my brain fused to believe there was no a connection between the two Somewhere deep inside, It lieved that the success of Bo monton would somehow bene fit the helmeted residents the Astrodome. Yesterday, the contest was between the mighty New Jer sey Devils and the awe-inspir ing Philadelphia Flyers. Ind urally took the side of the Fly ers because former Astro own er John McMullen owns th Devils, and New Jersey is july an ugly state in general.

No one scored in the minutes that the television was on. Contrary to belie there were no fights in the span of time. There were lo of changes of possession, and the game wore on, I realize what I was really watching soccer on ice.

Yes soccer, the sport the did not captivate America last summer when the Wor Cup was held in the Unit States. The similarities are striking -low scores, ple ty of opportunities for ties pointless running around an announcers getting way excited at shots that almos go in. Needless to say, I'm n fond of soccer either. Adding sticks, a puck and a sheet ice hardly makes the enter tainment value go up.
