

Mike Hill's eagle equals one-stroke win

He led after every round in winning the Kroger Senior Classic.

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Mike Hill used an eagle on the par-5 ninth hole to offset two bogeys on the backside for a one-stroke victory Sunday in the Kroger Senior Classic.

Hill, who led after every round, shot a 5-under-par 66 for a 17-under 196 total, two better than Gibby Gilbert's tournament-record total in 1992.

Isao Aoki was second and Graham Marsh was another stroke back in third, as they had been after Saturday's second round. Aoki and Marsh shot 65s.

The victory was worth $135,000 for Hill, who has made a career on the 6,628-yard Grizzly Course at The Golf Center at Kings Island. He got the last of his three PGA Tour victories on the course, winning the Ohio Kings Island Open in 1977.

Hill's opening-round 64 immediately made him the one to beat, although perfect weather and a well-manicured course produced a bevy of low scores.

After two rounds, 55 of the 78 players were under par. But Hill's second-round 66 left little room for anybody to make a run, even though Marsh had a tournament-record 63 on Saturday.

Hill's only other victory this year was in the Legends of Golf two-man tournament with Lee Trevino, and he came into the Kroger ranked 27th on the Senior PGA Tour money list.

Sunday's check boosted his winnings for the year to nearly $340,000.

Rocky Thompson had the best score of the day, a 7-under 64 to finish at 12-under, along with J.C. Sneed. Ed Sneed was another stroke back.

Topless bar ads cause All-Star stink

Arlington officials don't want aerial banners with the ads flying over the Ballpark during Tuesday's game.

ARLINGTON (AP) — It all comes down to exposure. Exposure is all nude clubs say they seek with banners towed by airplanes over The Ballpark at Arlington during baseball games.

The banners, which stream across the sky during Texas Rangers' home games, inform fans about movies, restaurants, area bars and naked dancers.

"Kids will see worse on cable TV," says Roger Ward, president and owner of Skyways Advertising, whose planes fly about half of the banners. "We have no pictures, we have no obscenities." But that's enough for the Rangers, the city of Arlington and U.S. Rep. Joe Barton. Barton, a conservative Republican from nearby Ennis, has come up with a stadium statuette that he introduced to the congressional Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

Jacques Villeneuve breezes to win in Texaco-Havoline 200

The 24-year-old Canadian led on all but three of the 50 laps.

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP) — Jacques Villeneuve went virtually unchallenged Sunday en route to his second straight Texaco-Havoline 200 victory at Road America.

Villeneuve, a 24-year-old Canadian, led all but three of the 50 laps on the four-mile, 14-turn road circuit in earning his series-leading third victory of the season and the fourth of his Indy-car career.

The hard-driving youngster, whose points for winning the pole moved him out of a tie for the PPG Cup lead with Robby Gordon, built that margin to 22 points, 103-81, over Gordon after the 10th of 17 races.

Gordon finished out of the points in 26th with a broken transmission after having to start in his backup car because of electrical problems in the car he qualified.

"My car was very strong, especially after a few laps when the fuel went down," Villeneuve said. "I never had any problem."

The sixth caution flag of the incident-filled race came out on lap 46 when Brazilian rookie Gil de Ferran went off-course and had to have his car removed from a tire barrier.

That gave Paul Tracy, the 1993 Elkhart winner, one last shot at Villeneuve in a final two-lap, green-flag sprint. But the son of the late Formula One star Gilles Villeneuve was up to the challenge, beating Tracy to the line by 0.97-seconds — about four car-lengths.

Here's a revolutionary thought: McDermott should spend less time worrying about how his stadium fits into a losing future and work harder to ensure his team doesn't stop winning.

Tracy, who broke his left foot in a go-kart accident last week, had problems getting restarted after both of his pit stops, stalling the engine as he tried to get going after the first one.

"My foot's really sore," Tracy said. "It swelled up a lot during the race. I had a hard time getting out of the pits, but this feels like a win because we had to struggle so much all week."

Jimmy Vasser, who was awarded his first Indy-car victory two weeks ago at Portland, Ore., after Al Unser Jr. was disqualified for a technical violation on his car, finished third, followed by Brazilian rookie Andre Ribeiro — his best career finish — and three-time series champion Bobby Rahal.

Michael Andretti and Unser were knocked out of the race on the third lap when Unser, coming off the devastating disqualification, was overtaking Andretti and the two banged wheels.

Unser, trying to sweep past Andretti into fourth place, moved to the inside of the track and began to pull alongside at about 170 mph. Andretti, apparently not seeing Unser, moved to his right.
