Haley gets four-year extension from Cowboys

IRVING (AP) - All-Pro defensive end Charles Haley has received a fouryear contract extension with the Dallas Cowboys for $12 million.

Cowboys owner Jerry Jones said the deal, reached Sunday, includes a $3 million signing bonus and counts $2 million against this year's salary cap. Haley was to earn $1.95 million this season in the final year of his previous contract.

"This doesn't necessarily mark the end of his career. But certainly makes the statement that, at least from my perspective, Charles Haley is going to be a Dallas Cowboy for the rest of his career," Jones said. Haley, 31, retired immediately after the Cowboys' 38-28 loss to San Francisco in the NFL title game, but returned to the team March 8. He has played in six of the past sev-en NFC championship games and four of the past seven Super Bowls with the 49ers and the Cowboys.

"I know how desperately how Charles, perhaps more than anyone else on this team, wants to have that fifth Super Bowl ring," Jones said. Haley had 12 1/2 sacks and 68 tackles last season, 52 quarterback won't be the same without Smith's trademark backflip as the National League takes the field in the bottom of the first inning.

The game loses some of its luster without Maddux. Smith and Griffey, and baseball officials then must hope for an exciting, entertaining game. If American League hitters light Nomo up for six runs in the first inning, don't expect too many American television sets to stay tuned for long.

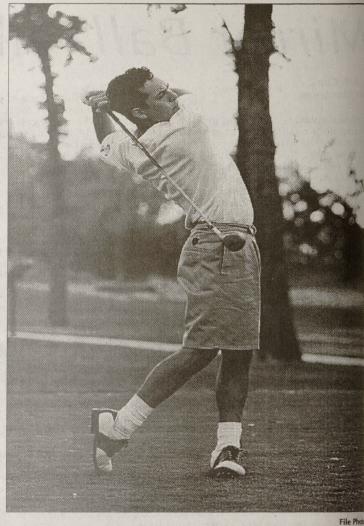

What baseball really needs is a duplication of last year's game, won by the National League 8-7 in 10 innings. In that contest, held at Three Rivers Stadi um in Pittsburgh, the National League provided high drama.

In the bottom of the 10th. Moises Alou drilled a pinchhit double off the left field wall. Tony Gwynn raced around third and beat Ivan Rodriguez's tag by inches to win the game for the National League.

A dramatic game like last year's thriller would stir the public's interest.

It seems like a lot of factors have to come together to bring baseball back from the brink, but the game has persevered for 126 years.

True, baseball is sick, but a classic All-Star game could be just the right cure.

□ Injuries cut down on Refugio's Toya Jones' senior season productivity.

REFUGIO, Texas - The

roar, known for nearly four years at Refugio High School as Toya Jones, was reduced to a whimper in the last two months. There was the disappointing performance at the Class 2A state track meet in May followed by less-than-thrilling finishes at three national meets But the Texas A&M-bound football and track star, who officially ended his prep career with an injury-marred seventh-place finish in the long jump at the USA Junior Track and Field Championships June 23, refuses to complain about his recent string of bad luck

"My mother always told me, To be a good winner, you have to be a good loser," Jones said.

Considering his past, the winning was expected to be grandest his senior year. But the state track meet — the site of Jones' greatest performances — proved to be a forerunner of several less-than-expected results.

"I've won a lot over the years."

Sure, he won five medals at the state track meet. Two golds (long jump and triple jump), two silvers (100 meters and 400-meter relay) and a bronze (200 meters). And Jones increased his state-medal haul to 17, the most recorded by a Texas prep track athlete.

However, the meet was as par performance of sorts Jones, who came in as the vorite in four events before being upset in the 100 and 200. The state meet performan was followed by fifth-and-six place finishes in the long ju and the 100 at the Golden W High School Track and Fi Invitational June 10 in Sac mento, Calif., a third pla finish in the long jump the Golden South Cham onships June 17 in Raleig N.C. before the washout at

USA junior meet. For some, just getting in ed to compete in national met is considered an outstand achievement. But high-calib invitations have become norm for Jones, who has been regular at national meets six starring at Amateur Athlet Union events in grade school

And only a year ago, Jone took second in the 100 at the USA junior meet, earning a sp as the anchor on the silver medal winning U.S. Junio Olympic 400-meter relay tes at the World Junior Olympics Lisbon, Portugal.

His recent woes can partly blamed on injuries — a straine left hamstring at the state meet and a strained right hamstri at the USA Junior meet, limit ing him to only two long jump and forcing him to withdraw from the 100.

The former Houston Astros star, slimmed down and with a fresh start in life, had a view of the spotlight again today in an event leading up to Tuesday's All-Star Classic in The Ballpark in Arlington. He doesn't call himself a born-again Christian, but he espouses Christian principles among his philosophies. Sometimes his philosophies don't seem sensible, but you get the point: Richard is fighting to get his life back. 'It's just like the frog and the stork," Richard said, relating his newfound outlook on life. "The frog might be half swallowed but he can still have his hands around the stork's neck.' A friend who saw Richard living

$850,000 salary. Shortly after pitching in the 1980 All-Star Game — in which he struck out Yankees slugger Reggi Jackson, a moment he ranks the best in his 10-year career

Richard began acting strangely. After a string of three shutout from May 31 to June 11, he began complaining of fatigue in his right arm. After coming out of a July game against the Braves after innings, he told reporters that hi ailment was an upset stomach.

After the game, however, he sal in front of his locker eating fried chicken and meatballs.
