SPORTS

ty by the per Thursday eptember 28, 1995

tember 28.

natic framew

iladelphia

young Af uses in Phi . The secon

hemselves

ther than g

er Party grew

t met in c

the answers

aid, "and so

ne are going

ng.

w she can bet

aduate stude

untry's overp

nd represent

ound the gla er and drate

laration, a cha omen's rights.

should be sai

ily planning.

tried to st

issue becau

it caused la

she said, refe

nce held in th

last year.

unn, Nations

Women pr

BRIEFS Lady Aggies avoid upset, beat Rice

I," he said McElroy falls to second in Heisman poll

ther than a dating is Leeland McElroy fell out of the top selling drapt in this week's Scripps-Howard g each other Heisman Trophy poll. to prison." McElroy was passed by Florida le said the State's Warrick Dunn in votes, 33-that shows 30, although A&M's star tailback c African A di receive the most first-place on in jail the The poll is conducted by the Rocky fe is distribution News and surveys 10 Heis-hat education not see ach week, two from each ly key to empographic region of the country. s terrible Southern Cal's Keyshawn Johnson ne to stop was third in the poll, followed by a to stored was third in the poll, followed by a deerstand the pair of quarterbacks, Florida State's ation begets. Danny Kanell and Florida's Danny er Party gree Wuerffel.

t crap going A&M's Arrant eliminated head to the finin Tennis Championships

Texas A&M senior tennis player ke Arrant was defeated in the qualiround of the National Clay Court s Championships Wednesday. Arrant lost to South Alabama's Nick olm, 6-2, 6-3 at the Suburban nlike of Baltimore County.

act with. le, Moore a Rockets resign Chilcutt

students area &M traditions HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston ak everyoe: Rockets signed forward Pete Chilcutt to a e," she said, "multi-year contract Wednesday. Ist don't km NBA champions were not disclosed. ernational methods for the deal with the reigning NBA champions were not disclosed. The 6-11, 235-pound Chilcutt played flood 911 in 66 games as a Rocket last season after ng Boniter sening in November 1994. He averaged c campus 53 points and 4.7 rebounds and started in ey do not re 17 regular season games.

'We feel that it is very important to. that she he keep the continuity with our team and the le participus Buys that led us to the championship," Fresh ideas stid Bob Weinhauer, vice president of basketball operations. "Pete was a major part of our championship run.

Senior setter Suzy Wente set an A&M SWC record with 76 assists in the win.

By Tom Day THE BATTALION

It may have been nearly five years since Rice last won a Southwest Conference volleyball match, but you would not have guessed that Wednesday night at G. Rollie White

Coliseum. The Owls

gave the Lady Aggie Volleyball Team all it could handle before bowing out in four games, 15-9. 14-16, 15-6 and 15 13 in an SWC

matchup. A&M Head Volleyball Coach Laurie Corbelli said Rice did not play like a team that had just suffered its 41st consecutive loss in league play. "I was afraid in the fourth game that we would be their first victim," Corbelli said. They have the ability to win this year, and they're going to take a team that isn't ready by surprise. The Lady Aggies now 10-1 and 2-0 in the SWC, did not make things easy on themselves.

Plagued by inconsistency in the early going, A&M was able to string together an onslaught of bonecrushing kills to claim the first game.

However, mental errors and indecisiveness caught up with the Lady Aggies in the second frame, giving Rice (12-5, 0-1 in the SWC) an opportunity to steal the game and tie the match

"Our discipline was a prob-lem," Corbelli said. "We had too many errors and were out of position, and that started a wave of uncertainty amongst each other.

"Our serve receiving was not as strong as it's been lately. That put us in a more tentative mode than we prefer to play, and it threw us off a lit-

The Aggies responded with a little more fire in the third game as the Owls wilted under another furious A&M attack.

Senior outside hitter Andrea Williams took charge of the offense, setting up eight shots and knocking down 11 kills while giving setter Suzy Wente an opportunity to contribute on defense.

"Suzy is one of our best de-fensive players," Williams said. "Whenever she doesn't set the ball, I feel I have to get there, get my footwork down and be able to set the ball to our middle blockers and outside hitters.'

The momentum appeared to have shifted back to Rice in the final game as the Owls grabbed a 13-10 lead.

But instead of settling for a five straight points to close out the match.

Sophomore outside hitter Kristie Smedsrud's 21 kills paced a balanced A&M attack. Middle blocker Cindy Vander-Woude and outside hitter Dana Santleben each tallied 19 kills while junior middle blocker

Page White added 15. Wente finished the match with 76 assists, a new Lady Aggie record for conference games and just one short of A&M's all-time mark, set by Genny Wood against the University of Texas-El Paso in 1991.

"The stat sheet looks a lot better than the match did, Corbelli said. "Some players weren't quite prepared to be fighters tonight, and that was disappointing.

"Rice scouted us well and knew what our attack would look like, but we did regroup and come back to win. They were ready to beat us.

Despite A&M's sluggish effort, Corbelli said the team can take some positives away from the victory. The Aggies' 94 kills and 94 digs were both season highs.

"As disappointed as we are in the way we played, I think this is the best thing that could have happened to us," Corbelli said. "Had we won easily, we may not be reflecting on things we need to work on. The girls know it and they're very serious about it and that's only going to help us get stronger.

We got away with a win, fifth game, the Lady Aggies but deep down, we know we reached down and delivered could have done better."

Evan Zimmerman, THE BATTALION

15

Sophomore middle blocker Page White winces after knocking the ball back over the net in A&M's four-game win over Rice.

Experienced Wagner ready to lead women's swimming

The new coach hopes to be on the Olympic swimming staff in 2000.

By Kristina Buffin THE BATTALION

As the swimmers get out of the pool, he pats them on the back and tells them, Nice job.'

The new head coach of to have one person the Texas A&M women's swimming team, Don Wagner, believes encouragement will be the feature that distinguishes him as a nationally-recognized head coach. "I like to take the positive approach," Wagner said. "I will continue to encourage them as long as they are busting their butts every day. I like to start with the positive, and then move on to the things that we are doing wrong. Until now, the A&M Evan Zimmerman THE BATTALION swimming program has opcoach for both the men and women's team. However, this year, the Athletic Department decided that it was time to have a separate coach for each team.

'We are opening the new natatorium and realized that it was time to commit to the swim program," Senior Associate Athletic Director Lynn Hick-ey said. "They have been successful every year and it is pretty unfair in charge of coach-sons why I chose A&M," Wagner said. "First, they have built a new facility that shows their commitment to the program.

"Second, the new confer-ence (the Big 12) is going to be a great one. Being an assistant at USC was great, but I'm not going to go

Fans see best era of A&M football

what makes the power of the Twelfth Man so special. Although a majority of the campus is whining over how we were outscored,

Colorado has now joined the ranks of t-sippers and anyone who goes to Notre Dame. As Aggies, we need to realize that many former students had to experience just plain horrible Aggie teams.

Many students are second or third generation Aggies. This means that we have had to grow up with stories from our parents or grandpar-ents, talking about the good old days. Most of our parents attended school during the 1960s when the Aggies compiled a 30-58-3 record and had only one first place finish in the Southwest Conference and one trip to Cotton Bowl. Compared to the successes of the 1990s, current students are lucky. Can you imagine attending games at Kyle Field and being beaten, oh sorry, outscored?

ay not affe it is a goo rking for wor very encours vomen gaini e said. NOW plans: ference Sunda Sweet Euger t says that "

change in a

N

H

R

ntainers.

hing is we a en's conferent de level,"

A&M Women's Swimming Coach Don Wagn- erated under one head rs, in our offer keeps an eye on his team during practice.

all the other responsibilities. We wanted to show a total commitment to the program.'

ing, recruiting and

Wagner comes to A&M from the University of Southern California where he was an assistant head coach and the recruiting coordinator for three years. Wagner ac-cepted the job at A&M because he believes this is the next step in his evolution as a coach. "There were several rea-

gram." -Lynn Hickey Senior Associate Athletic Director I can't

where progress.' Wagner brings both national and international experience to the Lady Aggie Team. This summer, he was the head coach of the U.S. men's team at the World University Games. The team set a University a close game, both former and current students have nothing to be ashamed of.

See WAGNER, Page 16

Ait on television Saturday,

it was quite apparent that the Twelfth Man spirit is alive and well. Although the Aggies lost

ttending the A&M-Colorado game or watching

KRISTINA

ASST. SPORTS ED

BUFFIN

Since R.C. Slocum took over the Aggie team in 1989, he has compiled a 59-12-1 record, with a 34-1-1 record at home. Aggies have been able to experience one of the best periods in Aggie football since 1939 when A&M captured the national championship under the coaching of Homer Norton.

In fact, current students are actually being spoiled by this span of success

This type of mentality is

See BUFFIN, Page 16

