

Sullivan says Davis not on suspension from team

□ The running back is being investigated for involvement with an agent.

DALLAS (AP) — Pat Sullivan tiptoed Sunday around his decision to hold his star running back out of Texas Christian's game against Tulane, but emphasized

Andre Davis had not been suspended.

TCU issued a press release shortly before the start of Saturday's game, saying Davis was being sidelined pending investigation of a question regarding Davis' "alleged relationship with an agent."

A day after TCU's 16-11 victory, Sullivan emphasized that, "I have not suspended him (Davis) from our football team and have not declared him ineligible. It's just a decision we made, and let me drop it at that, OK."

Sullivan and Davis agreed the senior would not play until the university completes its internal investigation, which will be led by athletic director Frank Windeger, the head coach said.

Asked if the matter would be resolved before Saturday's contest against Baylor, Sullivan said: "I would hope so."

Sullivan's only other comment Sunday came when asked whether the investigation could affect the outcome of earlier games this season. TCU is 5-1 for the season, including a 2-0 record in Southwest Conference play.

Braves shut down Indians' offense again

Atlanta Braves 4
Cleveland Indians 3

□ Tom Glavine and the Braves' bullpen gave up just six hits to take a 2-0 series lead.

ATLANTA (AP) — They did it again.

The Atlanta Braves, behind Tom Glavine and the bullpen, shut down the Cleveland Indians on six hits, winning 4-3 Sunday night for a 2-0 lead in the World Series.

Javier Lopez took care of the rest for Atlanta. He broke a sixth-inning tie with a two-run homer off Dennis Martinez, then made a key pickoff throw in the eighth.

A day after the Indians were held to a season-worst two singles by Greg Maddux, the best lineup in the majors didn't do much better against the top staff in the game.

Only Eddie Murray's early two-run homer did anything to disprove baseball's oldest adage — good pitching stops good hitting, especially in October.

The Braves' second one-run win gave them the kind of edge they never enjoyed in losing the World Series in 1991 and 1992, and they still have the option of using Maddux twice more.

Now, the scene shifts for the first World Series game in Cleveland in 41 years. John Smoltz will take his turn at stuffing the Indians while Charles Nagy will pitch Game 3 Tuesday night.

Glavine limited the Indians, who led the majors in batting, scoring and home runs, to three hits in six innings. Like Maddux, he used his off-speed stuff to keep Cleveland off-balance, and won't up with his third win in five Series decisions. Glavine appeared to break only one bat — Albert Belle's on a soft single — as posed to the five Maddux brothers in Game 1.

Relievers Greg McMichael, Ajandro Pena and Mark Wohlers finished, with Wohlers going 1 1/3 innings for a save.

Carlos Baerga made the last out of the game for the second straight night, popping out to third on Omar Vizquel on second after a single and a stolen base.

Lopez homered with one out in the sixth. David Justice led off the sixth with a single and made the third with one out and, with infield playing in, Lopez hit a 45-foot drive to center for a 4-2 lead.

Cleveland closed to 4-3 in the seventh with the help of a two-base error by defensive regular Mike Devereaux in left field on a slicing liner by Vizquel. The misplay with two outs drove Kenny Lofton, who singled and stole his fourth base of the series.

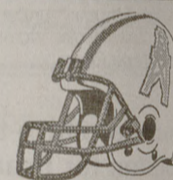

With the Braves clinging to their one-run lead, Manny Ramirez singled with one out in the eighth. But he strayed on a snap throw by Lopez from behind the plate. Jim Thome walked in the next pitch, then Wohlers replaced Pena and retired pinch-hitter Paul Sorrento on a fly ball.

Martinez allowed four hits in 2-3 innings. At 40, he was the oldest pitcher to start a Series game since Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1928.

Oilers' comeback falls short in Chicago

Chicago Bears 35
Houston Oilers 32

□ Houston fell behind 25-0 before mounting a second-half rally.

CHICAGO (AP) — Erik Kramer and the Chicago Bears, all shook up by a 98-yard interception return just before halftime, held on in the second half Sunday and beat the Houston Oilers 35-32 for their third straight win.

The Bears (5-2) built a 25-0 lead but nearly squandered it after Houston's Darryll Lewis scored on the 98-yard return with 8 seconds to go in the half.

Lewis' one-handed interception and sprint down the sidelines brought the Oilers to within 28-15. Houston used the spark to score another touchdown and field goal in the third quarter to close within 3.

Kramer, who completed 24 of 41 passes for 349 yards, then moved the Bears 73 yards for a crucial score, hitting Jeff Graham with a 18-yard touchdown pass with 10:18 left. The drive featured a fourth-down sneak by Kramer and 17-yard pass to Curtis Conway.

The Oilers (2-5), who've lost three straight by a total of 18 points, responded once more.

Chris Chandler's 6-yard touchdown pass to Haywood Jeffires with 2:23 to go, capping a 83-yard, 11-play drive, cut the lead back to 3.

But the Bears then recovered on a sidekick and ran out the clock. After John Thiere made his third fumble recovery of the first half with 51 seconds to go, the Bears appeared ready to put the win away.

Chicago, leading 25-8, had a second down at the Oilers 3, but Kramer's sideline pass for Graham was cut off by Lewis and the play was a two-touchdown swing. In the third quarter, Chandler's passes of 34 yards to Malcolm Seabron and 42 yards to Travis Hannah, setting up Frank Ysichek's 1-yard scoring run to make it 28-22. Chandler finished 24 of 38 for 296 yards.

After a fumble by Bears rookie Rashaan Salaam, the Oilers got a 39-yard field goal from Al Del Greco and were behind by three with one quarter remaining.
