Hello, my name is

Bruegger's Bagels.

A funny name, we know. What's it mean? Bagels. Old-fashioned, kettle-boiled bagels. Baked fresh all day. It also means delicious cream cheeses, terrific fresh-ground coffee, fresh bagel sandwiches, and a nice place to take a load off. Come on in. We're new here. But we've got just what it takes to make a name for ourselves.

Irvin strives to break record

□ Cowboy's Irvin hopes to capture the consecutive 100-yard receiving record.

IRVING(AP) — Michael Irvin wants to set the NFL record for consecutive 100-yard receiving games Sunday with San Francisco's Jerry Rice watching.

"I'd love to break the record in a game of this magnitude," Irvin said on Wednesday. "It would be cherry on a pie to do with Jerry on the sidelines. I'd love for Jerry to be there when the announcer announces it and hears the cheers."

One of the sidelights to Sunday's meeting between the Dallas Cowboys and the 49ers in a rematch of their NFC championship game is whether Irvin can set one of the few records Rice doesn't hold.

Irvin has 100 yards receiving in seven consecutive games, a mark established in 1961 by Charley Hennigan and Bill Groman, both of the Houston Oilers.

Irvin talked of his respect for Rice, who became the NFL's all-time leader in career receiving yards last month.

"I'd say Jerry is the greatest receiver ever to play the game," Irvin said. "My job is to be the best receiver Sunday."

Irvin said it will be interesting for him to watch Rice have to go one-on-one with Deion Sanders for a change.

"That's an interesting challenge for both guys," said Irvin, who had numerous battles with Sanders when his teammate played for the 49ers and Atlanta Falcons. "I'll have the best seat in the house for it. I'll be sitting on my helmet watching that matchup."

In six games against the including a 12-catch, 192-yard day with Sanders defending in the 38-28 NFC championship loss to the 49ers.

"I thank San Francisco for setting us straight and making us refocus," Irvin said. "Hopefully, we can return the favor. We just have to watch getting too emotional for this game. We have to be smart about it."

Irvin admitted he was getting a kick out of the 49ers four-loss season.

"I've enjoyed seeing 'em struggle," he said.

Irvin has 66 catches for 1,023 yards this season, best in the NFL. He's averaging 15 yards per catch.

He also is just seven catches and 30 yards away, respectively, of setting club records in those categories.

With Alvin Harper gone, the prevailing theory was that Irvin would be double-teamed and his production would drop.

"I've been running different routes and hiding from the double teams," Irvin said. "The ball is coming to me more often with Harper gone. I do appreciate it."

Irvin said the driving force for his season has been the January loss to San Francisco in which he lost a fumble.

"I haven't forgotten," Irvin said. "It's an anger you want to take with you throughout the season. It slapped us back to reality."

Lady Aggies sign four recruits on signing day

□ The Lady Aggies signed three forwards and a guard on early signing day.

Staff and Wire Reports

The Texas A&M women's basketball team signed four players to national letters of intent on the first day of the early signing period, yesterday.

"We are thrilled with this early recruiting class," A&M Head Coach Candi Harvey said. "We feel that these four young ladies each bring something to us that will make us an immediate contender in the Big 12."

Signees included three forwards Kara Alexander, from Whitesboro, Jennifer Burrows, from Temple, Prissy Sharpe, from Longview and guard Amy Yates from Cleburne.

Alexander was named the all-district and all-area MVP in 1994 and 1995. She led her team to a 26-9 record and the state tournament where she averaged 24.9 points, 11.2 rebounds, five steals, five assists and 4.5 blocks per game. As a freshman she was voted the all-district and all-area Newcomer of the Year.

She is ranked first in her class academically and is a National Merit Scholar.

Burrows averaged 17.2 points and 8.8 rebounds per game as a junior and made her second appearance on the Texas Basketball Magazine preseason strict selection as a junior and a senior.

Alexander and Sharpe were teammates on the gold-medal winning Southwestern Texas Shooting Stars AAU team at the Junior Olympics this past summer. All four recruits played for the Lady Magic Black AAU team and were southwestern regional champions.

"We are thrilled with this early recruiting class."

— Candi Harvey
A&M Head Coach

"This recruiting class is highly skilled and athletic," Harvey said. "Each one of these young ladies shares an absolute passion for the game. They have played AAU basketball together, and they have developed a sense of teamwork."

"They all wanted to stay in the state of Texas to play. We are extremely pleased with their decision to join Lady Aggie Basketball as we head into the Big 12."
