Big 12 schedules clear up

□ The Aggies and Longhorns will play the day after Thanksgiving

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Tech will open its 1996 football schedule with a neutral site game against Oklahoma State at Texas Stadium on Sept. 7 in an effort to keep a presence in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

With the breakup of the Southwest Conference, Tech joins Texas, Baylor and Texas A&M in joining the existing Big Eight to form a new Big 12 Conference, while SMU, TCU and Rice move to an expanded Western Athletic Conference.

The game, with its noon kickoff, will open Big 12 play for both Texas Tech and Oklahoma State. Also, Texas and Texas A&M announced that their game next fall is being moved to the day after Thanksgiving.

ABC-TV's original contract with the Big 12 called for the A&M-Texas game to be played Thanksgiving morning. Texas A&M athletic director Wally Groff said network officials asked the two schools last month if they favored playing on Thanksgiving Day or the following day. Both replied that they preferred Thanksgiving Day, Groff said Monday.

But at this month's NCAA convention, ABC officials told both schools they were scrubbing all Thanksgiving Day football NFL telecasts.

A decision on future dates for the A&M-Texas series remains in the air, Groff said.

Groff said A&M and Brigham Young are under strong consideration to play in the Pigskin Classic on Aug. 24.

"Apparently we're getting close to the short list," Groff said. "It's something we're very much in favor of doing."

Since the Pigskin Classic doesn't count against a team's 11-game maximum, A&M could wind up playing as many as 14 games next season if the Aggies also play in the first Big 12 championship game next season and also end up in a post-season bowl.

Walsh a 49er?
Frisco to call press conference

□ The former coach led San Francisco to three Super Bowl titles.

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Bill Walsh could be on the verge of returning to the San Francisco 49ers.

The 49ers called a news conference for Tuesday, and team spokesman Dave Rahn said Walsh, club president Carmen Policy and coach George Seifert all would be there.

Rahn said Monday night he could not confirm reports that Walsh, who led the 49ers to three Super Bowl titles in 10 years as their coach, would re-join the team in a yet to be defined role.

Telephone calls to Walsh and Policy were not returned.

Walsh's addition won't affect the position of Seifert, who guided San Francisco to two Super Bowl triumphs in the seven years since succeeding Walsh in 1989.

San Francisco was denied a chance to defend its fifth championship when the Green Bay Packers upset the 49ers 27-17 in a divisional playoff this month.

Walsh, whose offensive system is still run by the 49ers, has operated quarterback camps and worked for the NFL in an advisory role the last year.

He spent the previous three years in a second tour as Stanford coach before resigning in 1994.

Walsh quit as 49ers coach following the 1988 season, which ended with the team's third Super Bowl crown. He stayed with the organization briefly as an administrator.
