

JOIN OUR WORLD FOR THE SUMMER

Enron Capital & Trade Resources offers you the best of both worlds. At ECT, you not only receive financial experience rivaling any on Wall Street, but you gain industry experience with Enron's base as the largest supplier of natural gas in North America.

With offices worldwide, the Houston-based ECT provides both domestic and international experience.

Enron Capital and Trade proves that career opportunities exist beyond Wall Street.

As an energy merchant and risk intermediary, ECT plays a powerful role in the deregulation of the natural gas and electric services industries. It leads the way in marketing commodities through innovative applications of derivative products such as futures, swaps and options to create customized energy products for its customers.

ECT's willingness to act quickly when faced with market opportunities has enabled it to build the largest portfolio of natural gas derivatives contracts in the world, to become the largest non-regulated marketer of electricity, and to establish itself as a prominent provider of debt and equity funding to the independent oil and gas industry.
