NCAAs: Kentucky, Umass show why they're top seeds

Georgetown defeated Texas Tech, 98-90

(AP) — Louisville's last two who played with the flu and tots at victory bounced off the was limited to 23 points total shots at victory bounced off the rim. And while Wake Forest's players danced, a groan could almost be heard all the way from bluegrass country.

The Demon Deacons advanced to the final of the Midwest Regional on Thursday night with a 60-59 victory over the Cardinals in Minneapolis.

Also advancing to the NCAA tournament quarterfinals were Massachusetts, Georgetown

The Hoyas held off a late Texas Tech rally for a 98-90 win in the East Regional at Atlanta. In the final they'll meet Massachusetts, which defeated Arkansas 79-63.

Wake Forest (26-5), the region's second seed, will play top-seeded Kentucky (31-2) on Saturday with a chance to reach the Final Four for the first time in 34 years.

A Cardinals victory would have renewed one of college basketball's fiercest rivalries Kentucky vs. Louisville.

Duncan would have none of that. He scored 27 points, including the go-ahead three-point play with 1:16 remain-in the Demon Deacons' first two tournament victories. also had 13 rebounds and seven blocks.

DeJuan Wheat missed two shots in the final minute, including an off-balance bank in the closing seconds.

UMass coach John Calipari didn't start All-American cen-ter Marcus Camby, who was late for the team bus. But it didn't matter as the Minutemen (34-1) overpowered the Razorbacks, appearing in the round of 16 for the fourth straight year. Carmelo Travieso, who tum-bled off a podium during a news conference the day before, showed no ill effects from his fall. He scored 14 points, one of five Minutemen in double figures. Tyrone Weeks, who started for Camby, tied a career-high with 16 points. Camby added

15, Dana Dingle 12 and Donta Bright 11. Allen Iverson scored 32 points on just 10-of-29 shooting. He scored six points dur-ing a 17-0 run in the second half that gave the Hoyas a 72-

61 lead. The first half, I was a little excited," Iverson said. "I was up for the game. I missed some shots I should have made. The team talked to me (at halftime), and I was able to get my game together."

Othella Harrington carried Georgetown in the first half, ing. The All-American center, scoring 18 points.

Kentucky (31-2) had just two starters play 25 minutes and 10 Wildcats played more than 13 in a 101-70 rout of Utah in the Midwest Regional.

Jason Sasser had 25 points to pace Texas Tech, which had four players foul out.

Kentucky unleashed its attack from the opening tap against the Utes, who suffered their worst lost since a 31point loss to Brigham Young two years ago. The 101 points were the most given up by the Utes since allowing 113 to BYU in 1984.

Utah had limited opponents to 63 points per game, and hadn't given up more than 85 all year. Kentucky reached that total with 7:52 left, then played sloppily the rest of the way. Utah (27-7) did a decent job against Kentucky's pressure, but still committed 21 turnovers. Wildcats turned those into 30 points.

'I knew what Kentucky was going in and I know even more going out," coach Rick Majerus said.

In Friday's games, Mississippi State (24-7) plays Connecticut (32-2) and Cincinnati (27-4) meets Georgia Tech (24-11) in the Southeast Regional at Lexington, Ky. In the West Regional at Denver, Georgia (21-9) faces Syracuse (26-8) and Kansas (25-5) plays Ari-

Chicago keeps rolling sans Rodman, Pippen

Michael Jordan scored 36 points and grabbed 11 rebounds.

CHICAGO (AP) - Michael Jordan had 36 points and 11 rebounds Thursday night and the Chicago Bulls used a 20-1 run in the second quarter to avenge their worst loss of the season as they beat the New York Knicks

The Bulls extended their NBA record with their 41st consecutive regular-season home win. Orlando, which did not play Thursday and is on the road Friday, has 40 straight Chicago, which won its sixth in a row, needs 10 wins in its last 15 games to finish with an NBA-record 70 victories.

Scottie Pippen started for Chicago after missing five games with a sore ankle, but he wasn't much of a factor. He picked up two quick fouls and didn't score until 10:29 remained in the fourth period, finishing with six points and six rebounds.

Toni Kukoc, who started the five games Pippen missed, had 12 points and 10 rebounds.

Baseball

"We need to stay focused and we need to stay within ourselves," Hunter said. "By that I mean stay with our swings instead of trying to hit home runs and do extraordinary stuff. We need to do what is going to make us successful, and that's getting all of the hit situations and basically doing our jobs."

After this four-game weekend at home, the Aggies will head to Lubbock where they will take on the No.4 Red Raiders of Texas Tech in a four-game series.

Irvin, Rodman walk wrong path

Lately, it seems that professional sports are not keeping their athletes busy enough. Or at least in the little free time the athletes do have, they can't keep themselves out of trouble, and that means during and after games.

If you haven't heard that

Michael Irvin was caught in a hotel room where a women was arrested on drug charges, then you obviously are not a diehard Dallas Cowboys fan or maybe you just don't care. In fact, I really don't care about this particular incident because, in my opinion, whatever Irvin does in his spare time is none of my business. The problem I have with all of this deals with the fact that these big-time athletes don't watch their back and instead, do stupid things that just get them

They should be worrying about acting like role-models in public instead of hanging around people with the penchant for getting busted by the cops for drug possession. Unfortunately, the Dallas Cowboys will probably have to take the bad rap for all of this. Now, for all of those people who hated the Cowboys have another reason for hating - or to say the least, they have a new topic for discussion at their 49ers' Fan Club Meeting.

Anyway, even though I am pretty neutral as far as pro football goes, I think that these athletes get paid enough and have enough to do with upholding a decent athletic reputation than spend their time finding trouble.

The perfect example of this is Dennis Rodman — the ultimate rule-basher in professional sports today. Instead of following the norm on and off the court, he decides that whenever anyone does to offend him or tell him he is wrong, he throws a temper tantrum, head-butts the referee and strips from the waist up. To sum it up, he makes a ridiculous fool out of himself. Now he has to spend more time paying off fines, sitting through suspensions and trying to win back respect from the NBA officials.

It is all a process that could have been alleviated if he would have just thought of his team fore his selfish tendencies. Why do talented athletes sud as Irvin and Rodman have to ad in these counterproductive ways? I'm sure that with all of their money they can find something better to do with their time and financial situations.

Plus, I'm sure the teams the represent can earn a little more respect are getting a little sick putting up with all of their irra tional actions.

In the long run, the entire team is the one that will suffer the Chicago Bulls falter witho Rodman, and now the Dallas Cowboys' just have another up hill battle of a media scandal trying to clear Irvin's name.
