PikeFest

"Most organizations are happy to break even," Shafer said, "but the line at the Hall of Fame went all the way around the building, and some people had to wait in line for two hours."

D.J. Muse, Pi Kappa Alpha president, said the festival was so successful that 1,200 people were turned away at the doors of the Texas Hall of Fame, where Robert Earl Keen Jr. performed.

Fraternity members have already started planning next year's PikeFest, and Shafer said his goal is to find a concert facility that can house 5,000 to 7,000 people.

Muse said tentative plans for next year's festival include big-name performers, such as Jimmy Buffet.

Shannon Holland, an MDA district representative, said PikeFest is a great way to get students involved in a worthy cause.

Holland said she was amazed by the amount of money that Pi Kappa Alpha raised.

"Fraternities get a lot of hassle," Holland said. "It's great when they can do something to let people know they are not bad organizations but do things for good causes and reasons."

Muse said his fraternity will continue to donate to the MDA.

"MDA gave us a lot of support in planning, management, getting donations from local businesses and forming a timeline," Muse said.

"So we thought they would be the best choice for a fraternity philanthropy."

The MDA was founded in 1950 to search for cures and treatments for 40 related neuromuscular diseases.

The association sponsors a worldwide research program which makes it the nation's leading voluntary organization supporting scientific investigation of neuromuscular diseases.
