

Brewers pound Rangers, 14-4 A&M football looks to greener pastures in '96

ARLINGTON, (AP) — John Jaha had four hits and four RBIs and Milwaukee starter Ben McDonald survived a shaky outing as the Brewers pounded out 20 hits to beat Texas 14-4 Tuesday night, snapping the Rangers' four-game winning streak. McDonald (6-3) improved his career mark against Texas to 6-1 despite giving up five hits in the first two innings, escaping with only one run. The Brewers battered Rangers starter Ken Hill (7-5) for a career-high nine runs over 3 2-3 innings, inflating his ERA from 2.94 to 3.65. McDonald lasted 5 2-3 innings and allowed 12 hits and four runs, including a two-run homer by Rene Gonzales and an RBI single by Ivan Rodriguez in the sixth that capped the scoring. Dave Nilsson added three RBIs for the Brewers, who have beaten the Rangers in three of the last five meetings.

"During their road trips across Texas together, his brother Joe Bill had always made a point of showing Mike the great football baronies of Texas — Texas A&M, the University of Texas, Baylor. 'Hey if you work hard, you can go here,' Joe Bill told him."

Friday Night Lights — H.G. Bissinger
A legendary quarterback at perennially powerful Odessa Permian High School, Mike

Winchell did just that. As his four school passing records indicate, Winchell did not slack off. Despite his stellar play, however, Winchell was not offered a single scholarship, and his aspiration to play major college football in Texas failed to materialize. Although Winchell's story is a sad one, his dream is reminiscent of the desires of current football recruits across the nation. Those desires captivate universities into spending millions on a yearly basis to upgrade their stadiums, making sure they alone attract the best athletes. A&M is no exception. With the onset of the 1996 football season and the opening of the Big 12 Conference only 73 days away, advances are being made daily to improve the school's football "barony."

the player gets enough torque on the ACL while cutting, then an injury is likely to occur no matter what surface they are on. Starting senior defensive back Donovan Greer missed most of last season due to a serious knee injury that occurred while playing on artificial turf. "It's hard to say if the percentage of knee and ankle injuries will drop when we move onto grass," Ricke said. "We've been playing on grass since 1970, so it's hard to compare since there are so many differences now from 26 years ago."

In another improvement being made to Kyle Field in time for the beginning of the 1996 season, A&M is taking the lead into the future with the addition of the new Diamond Vision Display System.

At a Board of Regents meeting on Friday, May 24, a licensing contract was awarded to GameDay Sports Programming Network to install the system. The new 20-by-27-foot video screen, much like the ones at Texas Stadium and the Astrodome, is a Sony Jumbotron System.

It will allow fans to see instant replays and close-up views of the events that make game day at Kyle Field memorable.

A&M Athletic Director Wally Groff initiated the new screen project, which is included in Phase Three of a four-phase athletic facilities overhaul.

"This new screen will bring A&M to the forefront of entertainment and recruiting," Groff said. "Not only in the Big 12, but across the nation as well."

The system is quoted at a price of $3 million, but in the contract set up with Game Day A&M will break even in the process, eventually having the chance to make money from it. "For the first 10 years of use, all the money made in advertising with the screen will go to paying for the system," Groff said. "Any money after that will be a profit for A&M."
