license is a detailed process.

 President Clinton said his targeted tax cuts were affordable and noted that a tax plan then-Sen. Dole supported in 1982 was actually the largest tax increase in history accounting for inflation.

 Clinton said his policies have helped bring peace to Haiti and Bosnia and made progress in Northern Ireland and the Middle East. Clinton said he supports school choice within the public schools but said the federal government cannot take money away from the public schools. He said it is important to Clinton accepted some of the blame for the nation's drug problems. He criticized Dole for voting against the 1993 crime bill that imposed the death penalty for drug Letbetter said the licensing SHIRTS process assures that product beartinued from Page 1 ing the A&M name will positively represent the University.

Letbetter said he will not apggieland," "Ag" and "Ags" are gal trademarks of the Univerprove dorms who use the name so they can be used without of the University in a negative

He said he has refused requests from dorms wanting to use Playboy bunnies, profanity or nudity on their T-shirts because he and his staff consider them offensive. Letbetter said when he rejects an item he is following guideline 14, which states that "any artwork found to be 'degrading,' 'demeaning,' or 'simply ugly' will not be approved to carry the University's trademarks."

Letbetter has been with the licensing office for 8 1/2 years and makes the final decision in approving a product after discussion with his staff. He also asks students' opinions of certain T-shirts and slogans seeking approval.

Letbetter said there are three purposes for the licensing office, but its primary goal is to protect the outstanding Aggie reputation.

These purposes include protecting University trademarks, promoting A&M and making a profit.

He said messages on A&M paraphernalia are a direct reflection of what Aggies are like. "Some students feel I am too conservative," Letbetter said. 'But remember that whatever is written on a T-shirt or a bumper sticker or anything else that says Texas A&M goes out into the world to say what kind of people

Clinton, Dole back on campaign trial

Hustling back to the campaign trail after their first debate, Bob Dole pressed his comeback quest Monday by insisting he's the candidate voters can trust while President Clinton pursued business support in states that normally vote Republican. Both candidates were trying to build on momentum they claimed from Sunday's showdown in Hartford, Conn., although early polls suggested the debate had produced little movement in the race. Traveling across New Jersey in a bus caravan, an energized Dole underscored a line of attack he had sounded in the debate. When people think of Bob Dole, I want them to think of the word trust. Trust. Trust. And when they think of the word Bill Clinton, I want them to think of the word fear," Dole told supporters gathered on a high school football field. "I trust you, Dole pressed his plan for a 15percent tax cut by campaigning with Republican Gov. Christie Whitman, who upset Democratic incumbent James Florio in 1993 largely on the promise of a big tax cut.

Clinton, for his part, all but ignored the debate in remarks to a business audience in Hartford, where he accepted the endorsement of 2,500 corporate leaders, known as Clinton supporters.

"I have wondered for years why the Democratic Party shouldn't have at least as much support in the business community as the other party," Clinton said. If the president was publicly ignoring the debate, not all his supporters were.

A sign hanging from the balcony read, "One Down. Congratulations, Mr. President!'

Both campaigns unleashed new ads to complement the candidates' messages, Dole's casting Clinton as "a real spend-and-tax liberal," and Clinton's promoting his presidency as "moving people from welfare to work. Meet-

Perot criticizes President

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ross Perot on Monday derided the first presidential debate as "pingpong" and proof of his contention he was kept out to keep the focus off issues such as campaign reform and the national debt.

We were in the 1992 debates and we were excluded from the 1996 debates, and if you watched last night, you'll know why," Perot told the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

They didn't have to talk about the real issues. We kept dragging that little skunk up by the tail" four years ago.

Perot, who unsuccessfully challenged a bipartisan debate commission's decision to exclude him from the televised debate between President Clinton and Republican Bob Dole, said the panel wanted "a nice, tight little theatrical event, which you saw last night."

"If you listened last night, it was confusing because they were both playing pingpong, and denying what the other said, and not getting to the facts and the numbers," Perot told the standing room crowd of 2,000.

The Texas billionaire, returning to a favorite campaign theme, warned that the nation is headed for "financial meltdown" if tougher action isn't taken on the national budget, trade deficits and debt.

Perot flew cross-country after a post-debate appearance on CNN's "Larry King Live" to keep his longstanding speech commitment here. The public-shy Perot plans to make more personal appearances before Election Day, according to his campaign spokesperson Sharon Holman. She said a schedule of other speaking appearances, rallies and television spots is being put together.

Perot has complained about difficulty in purchasing primetime television spots for his 30minute campaign commercials, but an Oct. 12 buy has been made on Fox at 9:30 p.m. EDT, and another is in the works with CBS.

Heartlight Ministries

of Longview, Texas is currently looking for college graduates who are Christians and desire to be challenged by working with kids from around the country. These kids are struggling with life issues and are currently living with us in our residential counseling center located in the piney woods of East Texas.

Heartlight is a ministry dedicated to work with families and kids who have been victimized or caught in crisis situations. These young people come and live with us for a year. During that time, we work intensely with each child, grow to love them dearly, struggle with them, and commit to helping them through their individual and family issues.

We have twenty-four kids here at a time, counsel from a Biblical model, are athletic and "outdoorsy" by nature, use horses and water sports to enhance our relationships with the kids, require the families to be a part of the healing process and are dedicated to a spirit of excellence in all that we do.

you information including a video explaining the ministry and a job description defining the position.
