Honoring a legen A&M Men's Tennis finished strong inaugural Coach David Kent Fall Classi Miss

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

Relying on the strength of its younger players, the Texas A&M Men's Tennis Team finished strong as the host of the inaugural Coach David Kent Fall Classic at the Omar Smith Tennis Center this weekend. The event included teams from the University Arkansas, the University of Oklahoma and Rice University. The traditional fall tour-Kent nament was renamed this year for former A&M coach David Kent, who retired after 18 years with A&M. A&M Head Coach Tim Cass said renaming the tournament was to honor Kent, who devoted so much of his time and talent to A&M.

"Coach Kent did a tremendous job here at A&M," Cass said. "I hope that through the naming of this annual event, it would somehow show my and Texas A&M's appreciation toward him." Kent retired May 31 after 27 years of coaching at the collegiate level and 18 seasons with the Aggies. He built a 516-223 overall record and a 316-201 showing at A&M.

Guerrieri said the rhythm the A&M midfield set was an optimum pace for the team.

"The score at halftime was a good comfort level for us," Guerrieri said. "We needed to play this well when we faced Baylor." Coming off a win against Tech, the Aggies seemed to have everything in place to face the 9-0-1 Lady Bears. Although Baylor is a first-year team, freshman forward Molly Cameron, the nation's lead scorer, came out in the first half to score Baylor's only goal, increas-ing her total to 21. The Bears also held the Aggies scoreless in the first half. Koop said working with a new offense was one reason the Aggies were scoreless. "These two games were a matter of trial and error for us," Koop said. "We had to get used to playing in the new line-up. Baylor seemed to take us by surprise because they were more fired up than Tech."

"We wanted to rest Carlos Eric (Elek), and Brent (Hora and give the freshmen as playing experienced opp Cass said. "They came out astic and showed they are of stepping in when needed In the No. 3 singles spi man Tony Young defeated Naisohn Arfai, 6-7, 7-6 and A&M freshman Juan. defeated Sasha Silverins

Junior middle blocker Cindy VanderWoude's block began a three-point run. She and junior outside hitter Jennifer Wells both blocked the Cyclone attack to give the Lady Aggies the game and match victory.

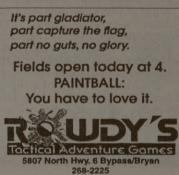

Junior setter Farah Mensik recorded 51 assists, Sykora led the team with 18 digs and Vander-Woude blocked nine Cyclone attacks in the match.

Smedsrud garnered a matchhigh 18 kills and hit for a .483 efficiency. Against Missouri, she recorded 12 kills and hit .318.

The junior said she needed a good performance to prepare for the upcoming matches against Nebraska and Colorado.

"I felt like [this weekend] was real important for me," Smedsrud said. "I haven't had real good performances the last few matches, so I just wanted to go out and hit as hard as I could.'

Senior middle blocker Page White also posted strong numbers. She hit .480 for the weekend series, with nine total blocks against Missouri and 16 kills in the Iowa State match. White has become a more powerful force in the middle as the
