Dingwall loses in Riveria first round

Texas A&M senior tennis player Nancy Dingwall, who is ranked 70 nationally, lost her first-round qualifying match at the Riviera American Championship in Palisades, Calif., Tuesday.

Dingwall

Dingwall, a 45th-ranked player, lost to 11th-ranked Ditta Huber of the University of Southern California today at 11 a.m. "Nancy was never able to get a hold of the match and she was able to be on the defensive," A&M Coach Bobby Kleinfelder said. "Our n't until late in the match when cy was able to make the necessary shots to maintain the offensive. We're 4-3 an be able to play more aggressively tough to win a match like that."

Lady Ag hoopsters host carving contest

The Texas A&M Women's Basketball Team will join in on the low-key festivities by hosting the Kroger Pumpkin Carving Contest before A&M's volleyball match against Kansas State University, Friday under the front porch at G. Rollie White Coliseum from 6-7 p.m.

Participants will receive complimentary admission to the volleyball match after the carving contest. Additionally, each artist will receive a ticket to the Lady Aggie basketball game against the University of Arizona Nov. 25 at 7 p.m.

Judges will chose the winners and the Lady Aggie hoopsters will help carve and sign autographs for all participants.

For more information contact the Women's Basketball office at (409) 845-0565.

Tennis' Sabatini to announce retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Gabriel Sabatini, who parlayed her generous profile and classic stroke into one of the most lucrative careers in tennis history, will announce her retirement. The day in the club her two greatest triumphs.

Sabatini

Switzerland, the 26-year-old Argentinian will call it quits at a news conference at Madison Square Garden.

The WTA Tour would not confirm the retirement, saying only the conference was "major" and concerned Sabatini's "future" in tennis. A source close to Sabatini said the retirement will take effect immediately, and there are no plans for her to play in selected tournaments or make a farewell tour.

Mackovic wants to stay put at UT

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas coach John Mackovic says he has no interest in returning to the NFL. Coach the New Orleans Saints should they have an interest in him after Jim Mora's resignation.
