Additional Texas tickets available

The Texas A&M athletic ticket office received 1,000 tickets to the A&M Football Team's matchup with the University of Texas in Austin on Nov. 29. The tickets, $30 each, are part of the Texas student allotment and are located in the north end zone area.

Fans can order tickets over the phone by calling 845-2311 or toll free at 1-888-992-4443. Fans can also purchase tickets at the ticket office inside the lobby of G. Rollie White Coliseum. Members of the 12th Man Foundation may order tickets from their office at 846-8892.

Heat is on for Baylor's Reedy

WACO (AP) — There were signs outside of Floyd Casey Stadium last weekend suggesting the Baylor Bears would be better off without football coach Chuck Reedy.

The heat is on for the four-year coach whose talent for recruiting excellent players has yet to be matched by on-field performance.

"I signed a five-year contract at Baylor and I expect to honor it and I expect Baylor to honor it," Reedy said. "Nobody at Baylor has mentioned anything to me to the contrary."

Athletic director Tom Stanton says he will review the Baylor football program after the season is over. On Saturday, the Bears lost 49-

All tickets are available on a first-come, first-served basis and there are no limits on the number of tickets a person can purchase.

A&M cyclists finish first in Bike Brawl

The Texas A&M Cycling Team took home first-place honors at the A&M Mountain Bike Brawl last weekend at Bryan Utilities Lake. The Aggies won handily over participants from the University of Texas, Rice, Southwest Texas State, Texas Tech, UT-San Antonio and North Texas.

A&M cyclists Scott Meadows, Hutch Butler and Chris Arterburn won second, fourth- and fifth-place honors, respectively, in the Men's A division, while Heather Murray took first-place honors in the Women's B class.

The Aggies' next meet is this weekend at Southwest Texas State University.

Belle signs contract with White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert Belle joined the Chicago White Sox today, agreeing to a five-year contract expected to make him baseball's highest-paid player.

The contract was thought to be worth $52.5 million over five years, which would be the baseball's richest in both total package and average annual value.

The temperamental 30-year-old outfielder, suspended several times for outbursts during his stay in Cleveland, led the Indians to the AL pennant in 1995, the team's first since 1954, and the team's second straight division title this year.

"It was a tough decision," Belle said at Comiskey Park, wearing a White Sox jersey and cap.

He was the prized free agent this season, and the Florida Marlins were expected to be Cleveland's chief competitor. But Belle turned to the White Sox after the Marlins failed to make an overwhelming offer last Friday, the first day free agents could talk money with new teams.

Cleveland withdrew its offer the following day.

"It was unfortunate things didn't work out," Belle said. "I'd like to put all the things behind me, and I'm looking forward to bigger and better things. This a chance where I get to have a fresh start."

Belle made $5,675,000 last season, the option year of a deal he agreed to in March 1993, hitting 48 homers and 148 RBIs. In the strike-shortened 1995 season, he hit 50 homers and 50 doubles.

He has been known as much for his outbursts as he has for his hitting, but Belle suggested he wanted to put some of the controversy behind him. He has been suspended five times in six seasons, but after AL president Gene Budig ordered him to undergo counseling early this season, Belle wasn't involved in any more incidents.

"I'll continue to be Albert Belle," the outfielder said. "I'm not going to change my personality. My priority is to produce."

While the details were immediately available, Belle's average salary under his four-year deal with
