"You've got to bust your tail 100 percent of the time," he said. "The people that win are the people that bust their tails during the election time. That's what it takes to be a Yell Leader."

The proposed bill was not permitted to continue to the Senate floor in an 11 to 7 vote after nearly two hours of debate.

Kerlin said it was not the responsibility of the Rules and Regulations Committee to table the bill. He said it was the responsibility of the Senate, as a whole, to vote on it and it was also the responsibility of the Senate to represent the student body as best as it possibly could. He said tabling the bill was a paradox of that idea.

Work faster with it.
