STUDENT CENTER COMPLEX FEE PROPOSAL

The student center complex fee is $24 per semester per student. It is not per credit hour.

It was last increased in 1992.

The proposed increase is from $24 to $30, but spread over three years. So, the fee in 1997 would be $26, in 1998 it would be $28, and in 1999 it would be $30. The tuition and fees statement for a student for next fall would increase by a total of $2.

The student center complex fee is used for operating, maintaining, improving and equipping the MSC, Rudder Tower, Rudder Theater Complex, and the Koldus Building.

It provides for the many services within the University Center and allows student groups to use the meeting rooms free of charge. The fee must be increased in order to maintain the current level of service.

It is not the GUF!

Voting on the Student Center Complex Fee Referendum will be from 8:00 am - 6:00 pm on Wednesday, December 4, 1996 at Evans Library, Kleberg, MSC, Zachary, Wehner, Sbis, Commons and Rec Center

Gifts: Class gifts live to tell about the A&M before

Selling Tickets of Pride

In the fall of 1927, a ticket booth was set up outside Memorial Gymnasium on Kyle Field as a memorial to the Class of 1928. The booth was designed in school colors by college architect, Ernest Langford, and most of the materials used to build the booth were made on campus by A&M students. The booth was valued at about $700, and it was dedicated at the annual t.u. game on Thanksgiving Day, 1927.

Sprinkling Hope

The Class of 1958 donated $2,300 toward the installation of an underground sprinkler system on O.R. Simpson Drill Field in memory of classmate James E. Saran. Saran died in 1955 as a result of injuries inflicted when he was crushed by a car while pushing two other students to safety at the guarding of Bonfire.

'The Graduate'

Professor Heri Bert Bartscht, a German-born sculptor, was asked to design a sculpture as a gift from the Class of 1966. The copper sheet sculpture stands on the south side of the library and (according to the plaque on its side) symbolizes "the continuity of the Aggie Spirit." The sculpture, called "The Graduate," consists of a young man's head surrounded by a one-sided circular mathematical figure known as a Moebius band.

Twelfth Man

Despite minority criticism, the Class of 1980 spent $14,000 to commission artist Pat Foley to build a life-size bronze statue of E. King Gill, the original Twelfth Man. The statue has two plaques: one telling the story of the Twelfth Man and another displaying words to the Twelfth Man and currently stands near Kyle Field by the Reveilles' graves.

Bonfire Spirit

Many classes choose a material gift, but some give less visible gifts. The 1984 gave a $20,000 endowment to help cover the cost of the annual Aggie Bonfire.

A Gift of Foresight

The Class of 1990 was ahead when it decided on gifts. One gift consisted of a fund for the Class of 2000. The fund was started with $50,000 expected to be worth over $1 million by the year 2090. A sterling silver, oak, and worth $8,500 and designed by architecture professor Robert was among other gifts given to the Class of 1990. The Jagger's divorce 'just never was'

LONDON (AP) — Jerry Hall reportedly has gotten satisfaction from her rolling stone of a husband, Mick Jagger.

Hall

The 53-year-old lead singer of the Rolling Stones had been living in a London hotel while his 40-year-old wife consulted lawyers over the future of their marriage.

Now they've made up, the Daily Telegraph reported Tuesday.

"Mick has moved back into the family home," the newspaper quoted a friend as saying. "This is the divorce that never was. There were problems but they have now been ironed out."

A London tabloid, The Sun, reported in October that Hall had asked Jagger for a divorce, furious at her husband's reported liaisons with Pulp Fiction star Uma Thurman and Czech model Jana Rajich.

Jagger and Hall have lived together since the late 1970s and married in 1991. They have three children, Elizabeth, 13, James, 11, and Georgia, 4.

Spielberg directs new birth in life

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The latest Steven Spielberg production is on the small side, but it's a crowd-pleaser anyway.

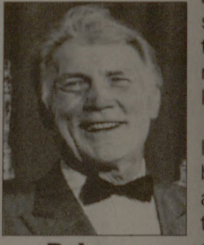

Spielberg's wife, actress Kate Capshaw, gave birth to a daughter on Sunday. The baby, named Destry Allyn, weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces.

"The parents are thrilled, happy, proud and doing great," said Rebecca Chaires, a spokeswoman for Spielberg's DreamWorks SKG studio.

Spielberg and Capshaw have two children — each from previous marriages — and also have two adopted children.

Palance's poem reveals sensitive

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Palance's whisper is generally considered more ominous.

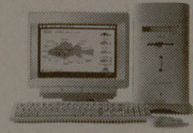

Palance

ern actor who has written a poetry, "The Forest of Love."

The twice-divorced Palance who won a best supporting Oscar for his 1991 Slickers, has plenty to say matters of the heart.

"It would be wonderful could arrange some sort of es in grade school to teach how to love each other," Palance said in Monday's USA Today.
