SPORTS

The No. 11 Texas A&M Women's Golf Team heads west this week to tee off with 18 other teams in the SMU-Ohio State Regional Challenge in Palos Verdes, Calif.

The Lady Aggies will compete with top-ranked teams, including the defending NCAA champion and No. 1 ranked Arizona University, No. 2 Arizona State University and No. 3 San Jose State University.

Representing the Lady Ags at the tournament will be senior Wendi juniors

Wight, Isabelle Rosberg and Aurora Kirchner, sophomore Jennifer Emmons and freshman Anna Beckert. The Aggies are competing in their first competition since the fall season, when they won their final two events at the Marilyn Smith/Sun Flower Invitational and the Diet Coke/Roadrunner Invitational. The Lady Ags also finished second at the Big 12 Fall Preview in October. A&M Head Golf Coach Jeanne Sutherland said that playing after the winter break takes some adjustment, but the team is eager to begin competitive play. "Right now, we don't look quite as sharp as we did at the end of the fall, but it is hard mentally to be in a competition mode after coming off the break," Sutherland said.

"Everyone there will be in the same boat though." Sutherland said there will be tough competition at the tournament, but since this is the first showing of the semester anything can happen.

Freshman Kathryn Scott, in her first singles competition of the spring, defeated Candy Gledhill 6-0, 6-0.

Likewise, both sophomore Monica San Miguel and junior Monica Rebolledo beat their opposition 6-0, 6-0. Katy Windham fell to junior Vanessa Rooks 6-0, 6-1 and senior Julie Beahm downed Tiffany Schmidt 6-0, 6-1. Senior Michelle Prejean wrapped the singles matches up with a 6-2, 6-2 victory over Britany Mikeska.

The team missed a workout the day before the game because of weather conditions. Scott said they knew they were going to have to play well, despite their powerful victory against North Texas.

"I think we did well consider-ing it was so cold," Scott said. "North Texas was a good match, but we knew we had to come out and be prepared.
