EASTMAN

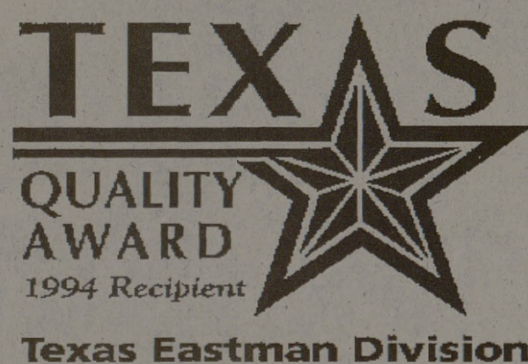

The Chemistry of New Ideas

Congratulations to Cesar Torres, a freshman chemical engineering major from Pasadena, Texas who has been selected as Eastman's most recent Chemical Engineering Selected Scholar here at Texas A&M University. Although he had directed most of his time to his studies, Cesar finds time for other activities. He has joined the Mexican American Engineering Society and the Society of Hispanic Engineers. He is active in church activities at St. Hyacinth Church. If he finds spare time, Cesar would like to play intramural or recreational soccer. Cesar would like to thank his parents for the opportunities they have given him. His projected graduation date is December 2001. After graduation Cesar hopes to enter the work force while pursuing an MBA. Eastman Chemical Company welcomes Cesar into the select group of student scholars. Congratulations again to Cesar!

Eastman Chemical Company

Eastman offers challenging cooperative education, summer internship and career opportunities in chemical, mechanical, electrical and industrial engineering as well as accounting, computer science, information systems, and chemistry.
