"The name of [the] person, where they were from, their age and what camp they died in will be read."

Cook hopes students will take an active role in the conference and will want to continue educating themselves about the Holocaust.

"The cultural events may inspire students to read literature and understand the struggle to keep the arts alive in the most horrific of times," Cook said.

Kenworthy is more concerned with the diminishing numbers of living Holocaust survivors and ensuring their memory is kept alive.

"My main purpose for getting involved was to educate people," Kenworthy said. "We can't go back and change what happened in the past, so it is important that we educate people so this doesn't happen again."

RENOVATIONS

The largest addition to the Evans Library Complex is the parking garage being built next to the Pavilion and Peterson Building. The eight-level garage will have about 600 parking spaces and will provide easy access to the library.

Parking, Traffic and Transit director Tom Williams said the garage will have some contract parking, but parking mainly will be for visitors. He said research will be conducted to determine the need for contract parking.

"This is the first time library users will have parking," Williams said. "It is a great asset for students as well as visitors."

The Board of Regents awarded the construction project to Centex Bateson Construction Company Inc.

Week-by-week pictures of the construction progress since May 1996 have been available on A&M's home page at <http://www.tamu.edu/library/announce.html>.

The page also has construction updates, project information and library announcements.

CABLE THIEVES HAVE RIGHTS, TOO.

"The Right to remain silent.
The right to an attorney
The right to a fair trial."

Stealing cable is a serious crime. You could pay a stiff fine, go to jail, or both.

Soon, TCA Cable TV will be conducting an audit of the cable system, and we'll know who's not paying for cable. But for a short time, we're offering amnesty. That means if you call us before the deadline, no questions will be asked.
