By JED Actor terminated faulty heart valve

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Schwarzenegger was back Tuesday just six days after surgery on a faulty valve.
The bodybuilder-turned actor had to have an aortic valve replaced April 16 even though it was not giving him any problems.
"Choosing to undergo open surgery when I never felt sick was the hardest decision I've ever made," Schwarzenegger said in a statement.
The action hero plans to return to the end of May, when he will promote Batman and Robin. Schwarzenegger plays the villainous "Mr. Freeze" in the movie.

BARTENDERS

Therivel says much of his intimidation rowdy drunks and worker Matt Moffett said drunks are a problem just about everywhere. He said a good bartender knows not only how to avoid confrontation but how to take on such situations when they arise.
Therivel pointed out that though males might have an edge in the intimidation department, females make up for it because usually receive better tips than males.
Therivel said a major reason for employee turnover in bars is because people get tired of bartending weekends. Whenever the weekend is out partying or going to movies, bartenders are working.
"I'm a fifth-year senior," Therivel said. "I'm just about social when it comes to College Station. Not having weekends doesn't bother me that much."
Bartenders say that in many ways they miss out on experiencing the finer points of college life as they are left only to observe.
They are watching.
When students break out of their stressed and lonely lives for the pleasure of a good time, bartenders are there: watching, making toasters smile with a drink, and sure they are having a good time mopping up the floor after their separate ways.

GEAR UP

"We built a petting zoo and a storage shed and had a great time volunteering. It's a really humbling experience."

For Balsam, an event like this will be a new experience.
"I've never really done any service besides fund raising," he said. "Gear Up Florida sounded interesting and different, so I thought I'd give it a try."
Crooks said he has made a serious commitment to Gear Up Florida and has been training all spring for the event.

"I have to do my job for the people we are riding for," he said. "I would never think about quitting. The whole idea is to get out and do something for them."

Crooks said Gear Up Florida is a great opportunity for those help out the disabled while doing something they enjoy.
"We are really excited and pumped," he said. "We are going out and have a good time, but with a real serious purpose behind it."

Are you looking for a SUMMER JOB in DALLAS???
Get a foot in the door, get the Advantage...
Todd Marshall
Senior Pricing Coordinator, Dr Pepper/7UP
Bachelor of Science 1992, Texas A&M University
"Shortly after deciding to pursue a career in a business field, I moved to Dallas. I had to begin working immediately and knew a thorough job search could be frustrating and exhausting. Within two days of moving, Advantage Staffing Services had work for me. This eliminated the stress of the transition. Interim work gave me the opportunity to demonstrate my abilities to the potential employer, while gaining experience in the process. From day one, the Advantage staff supported me with solid professional and personal advice. Advantage exceeded every staffing service I have dealt with because they truly cared about my well being."
